Negro Marchers Met by Hecklers In Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Swarms of screaming whites sprayed bottles and rocks at a huddled line of Negro open housing marchers on the virtually all-white South Side Monday night, bringing an abrupt and violent end to Milwaukee's 15th straight night of demonstrations.

"Niggers Niggers! Burn the Niggers!" shouted whites who packed the sidewalks along 16th Street as the demonstrators, led by Negro comedian Dick Gregory and the Rev. James E. Groppi, a white Roman Catholic priest, moved into the neighborhood.

At least two persons were injured, including Sydnev Finley, a national officer of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. Police made 13 arrests.

Own Marches

The whites, some of whom had made unsuccessful attempts at marches of their own into the Negro North Side, were waiting for the procession of about 500 Negroes.

"Sock it to me, Black Power, ooh, aah," chanted the demonstrators as they advanced through the hostile waves of

Knowles Makes Plea to Groppi

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Gov. Warren P. Knowles called on the Rev. James E. Groppi today to stop open housing marches and "adopt a positive approach toward improving conditions in the Inner Core."

Knowles told newsmen in an interview that nothing would be accomplished by racial violence and confrontations between white and Negro demonstrators.

They let them fly in an arc over the head of the riot, equipped police escort accompanying the marchers.

Police moved into the white lines, seeking the source of the missiles.

Other police urged the march-

Jamaica Set for Beulah

Mountains Cut Into Hurricane's Muscle

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Dwindling Hurricane Beulah, with the wind knocked out of her by 8,000 foot mountains moved today toward the tourist resorts of Jamaica leaving 18 dead, thousands homeless and ravaged crops in her wake on islands across the Caribbean.

The U. S. Weather Bureau in Miami said some hurricane force winds were likely over Jamaica late today with the greatest threat to the south coast where tides five feet above normal were forecast.

The once-mighty Beulah was tamed to a "minimal hurricane" as the gusts in her center slowed to 75 miles an hour, just one mile an hour above hurricane strength.

May Build

The weather bureau said Beulah may build up its muscle over the Jamaica Channel today and urged Jamaicans to prepare for high winds and heavy rain.

At noon EDT, Beulah's center was moving westward at 10 m.p.h., 80 miles southeast of the Jamaican capital of Kingston. Arnold Sugg, a forecaster, said it was too early to predict the effect on the United States.

"We have no way of knowing," Sugg said. "It's an impossible question Beulah is too far away and moving too slowly."

Two Atlantic hurricanes, Doria and Chloe, remained far from land.

Chloe, moving west from far out in the Atlantic, was said to pose no threat to land for the next two days.

Doria, a "minimal hurricane," centered 500 miles east of Norfolk, Va., was moving to the

Navy Pilots Zero in on Key Haiphong Targets

NEW DELHI (AP)—Red China threatened India today with "crushing blows" in the wake of a sharp clash between troops of the two nations on the mountainous border between Tibet and Sikkim.

Intermittent firing continued through the night between Indian and Red Chinese troops on the border, an Indian Defense Ministry spokesman said today.

The spokesman said he was unable to give any reason for the clashes which India claims were provoked by the Chinese.

Recalling the defeat Chinese troops administered to Indian forces in their border war five years ago, a Chinese government note delivered to the Indian Embassy in Peking said: "Do not misjudge the situation and repeat your mistake of 1962."

'Crushing Blows'

"For the defense of the sacred territory of their motherland," the note continued, "the great Chinese people and the Chinese People's Liberation Army will certainly deal crushing blows at any enemy that dares invade us."

India proposed an immediate cease-fire and a meeting of the local military commanders "to reduce the tension and prevent the situation from assuming a very serious aspect."

Each side accused the other of opening fire first on Monday. The clash occurred at Nathu La Pass, a Himalayan ridge about 20 miles from Gangtok, the Sikkimese capital where the former Hope Cooke, an American socialist, reigns with her husband the Maharajah Palden Thondup Namgal.

Red China said 36 of its frontier guards were killed or wounded in the clash, the second outbreak of fighting at the Peninsula was expected to be severe.

claimed two U.S. jets were shot down.

The U.S. Command reported no losses on the Haiphong strike, but said a B58 Canberra was shot down Monday north of the demilitarized zone and the two crewmen were missing.

The dock facilities were spared, but raiding jets from the carriers Coral Sea and Oriskany hit two of the main bridges in North Vietnam's chief port, the damage in Haiphong Monday was unavailable until film from photo planes was developed. However, returning pilots reported heavy damage to the rail yard and warehouse area.

Plant Blast In Alabama Fatal to 4

MUSCLE SHOALS, Ala. (AP)—

Four persons were killed and 40 injured in an explosion which shattered a building at the Reynolds Metal Alloys plant here Monday.

They said first reports indicated damage might reach $1 million.

The thundering explosion heard more than 15 miles away occurred in the plant's east house No. 10. The blast sent flames shooting more than 200 feet into the air and turned the building into a pile of rubble.

It looked like it had been bombed," one witness said.

Company officials said the dead included Hollis J. Creekmore, 53, of Florence, Ala., Charles N. Emberg, 50, of Sheffield, Ala., and John B. known nationality, apparently remained at anchor.

N.Y. Trying to Do Without Teachers

Makeshift Classes Under Way But Most of System Is Crippled

NEW YORK (AP)—The nation's largest public school system remained crippled today as striking teachers paced sidewalks instead of classrooms. Officials organized makeshift classes, some staffed by paraprofessionals, to keep the city's one million pupils in school.

There were indications, however, that negotiations might force the city to close all the schools until the dispute is settled.

Albert Shanker, head of the teachers' union, had vowed that the work stoppage would continue "until our demands are met."

However, he added today that he had learned that the Board of Education was willing to hear out any proposals his union had to make.

Shanker indicated that he would get in touch with the largest scale baby-sitting program in the history of the city.

When the fall school term opened Monday, more than 40,000 teachers defied a court order and boycotted classrooms.

Nearly 400,000 youngsters also stayed away.

The regular teachers who did show up for work were joined by parents and other volunteers, and Mayor John V. Lindsay appealed to college students to "come in and help teach."

Students should report to the schools nearest where they live to fill in for teachers.

Shanker, president of the 49,000-member AFL-CIO United Federation of Teachers, was due many antiaircraft sites blanketed with smoke and the bombs 'on the target' in the two strikes against the bridges.

Spanned Canal

The bridges spanned the big canal that bisects Haiphong and carried the main rail and road traffic for Hanoi to the west. They were located one mile and eight-tenths of a mile from the geographic center of the city, the U.S. Command said.

The warehouse area, containing about 13 buildings which made up about 1 per cent of North Vietnam's entire storage capacity, was located 17 miles northwest of the city's center, while the mile-long rail yard was 17 miles northwest of the center.

The closest raid previously to the center of Haiphong was an attack last April on a cement plant and power plant 11 miles from the center.

A map of Haiphong displayed by the U.S. air briefing officer showed the two bridges within the city limits and the warehouse and rail yards right on the city line. The officer said the map was an old one and he could not say whether the rail yard and warehouses were inside the current city limits. However, they were evidently well inside the populated part of the city.

The spokesman said the three ships narrowly missed by the SAM missiles were evidently waiting to enter the crowded port. He said trucks were on the after deck of the Polish vessel.

The Polish and Italian ships, more, 53, of Florence, Ala., Charles N. Emberg, 50, of Sheffield, Ala., and John B. known nationality, apparently remained at anchor.

Algeria charged that the U.S. vessels were picked up by coastal radar last Thursday and that when Algerian ships went out to intercept them, the foreign ships left the area immediately without identifying themselves.

The Algerian press agency said officials suspected submarines also were present though none were seen.

Algeria claims its territorial waters extend 12 miles offshore. The United States recognizes the three miles as the territorial limit.

The shooting broke out near El Qantara in the northern section of the canal. Israel said the Egyptians opened fire on one of its planes flying over Israeli-occupied territory.

An Egyptian communique said two Israeli Mirage jets violated Egyptian air space and "our fire forced them to flee to the east bank of the Suez Canal."

Both sides admitted ground forces then began firing. The Israelis said they replied with small arms when the plane was fired upon and the Egyptians began using mortars and artillery, wounding one Israeli soldier.

The Egyptian communique said "the enemy began shooting at our positions near El Qantara on the west bank of the Suez Canal" and the firing continued for 30 minutes until a cease-fire was arranged.

It was the first clash between the two countries since an artillery duel at the southern end of the canal Sept. 4.

Agency Okays $25 Million In State Purchases, Projects

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON -- The State Building Commission Monday approved projects totaling $25 million, which included $17 million in construction and land purchases and $8 million for welfare and collegiate institution programs throughout Northeastern Wisconsin.

Heading the list was a $9.6 million communication arts building on the University of Wisconsin Madison campus, all but $2.5 million financed from borrowed funds repaid by state money.

High on the list was a $6.6 million fine arts building for Wisconsin State University-Oshkosh, trimmed from a construction proposal of nearly $10 million, far above the $5.7 million approved budget.

Further Study
Laid over for further study was an undergraduate library on the UW-Madison campus planned at a total of $8.3 million. The new building, designed to separate undergraduate holdings and study space from the graduate and research materials in the main campus library, will be reconsidered next month.

The projects were approved in a routine meeting which handed out the largest amount of money appropriated in the last several months of action.

The bulk was accumulated through proposed educational buildings, reflecting the new nature of the state public educational systems, which now account for about half of the biennial state budget.

Funding Program
Most of the funds will be gathered through bond issues backed by the state's dummy building corporations. Of the total, $16.4 million was approved for the construction of new buildings and the renovation of existing structures.

The commission released $355,566 for preparation of final drawings of the Oshkosh campus fine arts building, and authorized the state university system to award bids for the project and start construction on the $6,688,827 building.

It will include full facilities for the music, art and speech departments. Contained in the main portions of the project, but structure will be offices, art delayed consideration of a plan-laboratories music preparation ned sewage treatment plant, rooms, rehearsal rooms speech pending further study of means laboratories and general class- of gaining the needed $500,000 room space.

The department was also authorized to repair or replace an treatment and sewage disposal elevator in the home, do survey system planned for the Grand work for the extension of Grand Army Home for Veterans at view Road at the institution, and King must be reconsidered in prepare further long range plans light of higher costs, the com- for cottage development in light mission was told.

Original Estimate
Estimated three years ago at about $1 million, the total will now cost about $1.5 million, according to the state other areas of the site, the department of veterans affairs commission was told.

Land Difficulties
Further cottage development will have to be made toward King, due to land difficulties in the department of veterans affairs commission was told.

An additional appropriation of $128,600 for the food services building at WSU-O to cover movable equipment, additional land costs and utility extensions was also approved.

Eight tennis courts will be constructed for $43,000, the commission decided, to replace six courts which are being demolished to clear sites for major buildings. The action was delayed from last month's meeting.

Educational communications systems will be installed at a cost of $11,500 in the campus school on the campus, the commission voted, to provide means of utilizing both closed circuit and commercial television for educational purposes.

Budget Increase
The building budget for the central administration building of Winnebago State Hospital will be increased by $55,000 to $850,000. The building bids exceeded the original $795,000 estimated for the structure.

A $325,800 maximum security, 29 bed dormitory also was approved for the Wisconsin Home for Women at Taychee-lot vote of 298-69 an offer of $25 dah. The commission released a month immediately and $30 $5,460 for initial planning, and more if the proposed income tax bids do not exceed estimates.

Judge Rigelhaupt issued a temporary injunction Saturday ordering the strikers back to work and they had until 9 a.m. Monday to obey. The judge indicated the injunction would have rooms and four isolation rooms, been enforced Monday after-noon if the settlement had not utility quarters.

About 15 to 20 per cent of the stations was open and the police force on duty was about one-third of normal during the five-day strike, but no major fires nor increases in crime without the new structure, only 161 beds will then be available.

Police, Fire Service Back To Normal

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Less than an hour after it was announced that Youngstown's striking safety forces had accepted a $100 monthly wage package Monday, police and fire services in the city were back to normal.

Nearly 500 of the 600 police and firemen went on strike last Wednesday night demanding an immediate pay increase of $25 a week.

They settled for a package that includes $26 a month immediately and $74 a month more if the voters approve an increase in the city income tax from one per cent to 1.5 per cent at a special election Dec. 14.

Earlier Monday the safety forces rejected by a secret ballot vote of 298-69 an offer of $25 a month immediately and $30 $5,460 for initial planning, and more if the proposed income tax bids do not exceed estimates.

'Perpetuate Rail Service' Seeks Law Against Strikes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The unions to hold out for more money. Most had already settled earlier for a 5 per cent per year pattern and so far have indicated no dissatisfaction, Hiltz said.

The railroads will face new wage demands from other unions right on the heels of the shop craft case. Unions representing several hundred thousand trainmen, switchmen and clerks have already served wage demands for their workers, whose contracts expire next January.

Hiltz, who took over on the retirement of J. E. Wolfe last month, indicated no break in the rail industry's tough bargaining attitude.

The 56-year-old Hiltz bargains for virtually all the nation's railroads. He resigned as president of the Delaware Hudson Railroad to take the new job, is little known outside the industry but brings 33 years of railroading experience to his new post.

Sabotage and obstruction is not the only course for those who cannot acquiesce in official policy. Tossing constitutional values to the winds is not an acceptable alternative to condoning of rampant crime."

Car Price Hike Enters Picture as Negotiators Plan to Resume Talks

Chrysler's Announced Jump Is First Increase Reported

DETROIT (AP) — An increase in car prices was a new factor in auto labor-management relations today as negotiators prepared to resume bargaining between the struck Ford Motor Co. and the United Auto Workers.

Chrysler Corp., citing increased costs of labor and new health and safety items required by federal law, Monday became the first of the four major U.S. automakers to announce a price increase. It said 1968 models would cost an average of $133 or 4.6 per cent more than 1967's.

General Motors, American Motors and Ford are also preparing higher price listings on new models but it was not immediately known when their prices will be announced.

Resume Bargaining
Ford and the UAW have agreed to return to the bargaining table Friday in an effort to end a six-day-old strike by 160,000 Ford workers. The UAW had no immediate comment on Chrysler's announcement, but it was expected to study the new prices to get an indication of what kind of second contract offer the company might make.

The union has rejected nearly identical offers made by the Big Three. One GM official estimated the original union demands would add $4 an hour to the $4.70 an hour in wages and fringe benefits the average worker now draws.

— Somalia's national news agency claimed Monday Kenyan troops had killed 63 Somalis in the disputed northern frontier district.

The agency said Kenyan troops surrounded the village of Mansa, 59 miles from Wajir, and shot down or confiscated 250 camels and 1,353 head of cattle between Aug. 26 and Sept. 4.

Chrysler's new models will go on display Sept. 14, earliest of the four Detroit car builders.

Chrysler's changes in its "suggested U.S. retail prices" ranged from a boost of $256 on a three-seat Chrysler station wagon to a cut of $144 on the Dodge Charger, the only one of 115 models whose price was dropped.

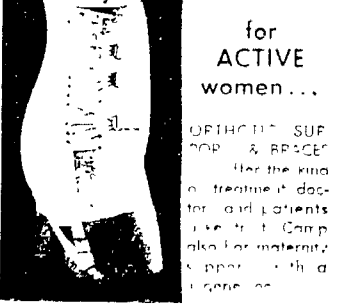

Based strictly on price tags, with no other consideration, an Associated Press analysis of the 115 models showed the average price increase was $152.70.

Pricing Complicated
Pricing is complicated by the fact that, as usual, some equipment that was optional on old models was made standard on new ones, which was reflected in price tags.

The Chrysler announcement marked the second year in a row that prices have been upped. Chrysler's original 1967 model hike was 3.6 per cent or $11.32.

Both Ford and Chrysler rolled back their prices last year after General Motors announced a list far lower. Chrysler's revised prices were still $86.99 or 2.82 per cent higher.

With the announcement that Ford and the UAW would not return to the bargaining table until Friday, some observers speculated that the strike, which began at midnight last Wednesday, will run at least into October.

Make a Pair of Spectacles For Your Piggy Bank's Eyes

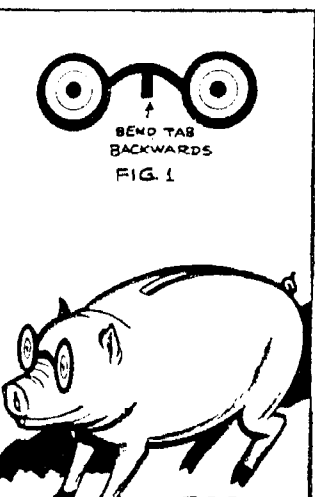

BY CAPPY DICK

An ordinary piggy bank can be turned into an unusual piggy bank by equipping it with a pair of big eyeglasses as shown in Figure 1.

They aren't real spectacles, of course, but are a make-believe pair made of white construction paper.

Figure 1 shows how to shape them. Sketch the outline on the paper. Blacken the rims with crayon or poster paint. Draw the eyes, then cut out the "specs," being sure to leave the tab shown in Figure 1 which is the means by which the "glasses" will be fastened to the pig's head.

Bend the little tab back, creasing it sharply. Apply a bit

Vietnam Veteran Gets Stuck in Own Chimney; Buddy Falls From Roof

BEAVERTON, Ore. (AP) -- An Army private home from Vietnam where he chased Viet Cong through tunnels got stuck in his own chimney.

Pvt. Monty Brownlee, 17, said he and a friend arrived at Brownlee's home early Saturday morning to find the house locked.

Brownlee climbed to the roof and dropped down the chimney. "I got all the way down it," Brownlee said, "but there were some bars blocking the passage-way."

Three firemen from the Beaverton Fire Department lifted Brownlee with a rope.

His friend, Charles Moen, 16, fell off the roof and was taken to a hospital for treatment.

Memorial to Late Mayor Bayorgeon Is Being Studied

KAUKAUNA — A proposed memorial to the late Mayor Joseph Bayorgeon, to be erected at the Doty Bayorgeon Recreation Area, is being studied by a council committee in cooperation with Mrs. Joseph Bayorgeon.

A monument firm has provided the health and recreation committee with a proposed stone which includes a likeness of the late mayor, but money available is insufficient to meet the estimated cost.

Money for the memorial was left by friends of Mayor Bayorgeon following his death. Slightly over $300 is needed to finance the remainder of the project.

Appleton Boy Involved In Drive-in Burglary Placed on Probation

CHILTON — A 17-year-old Appleton youth who was involved in a Sept. 2 burglary which netted about $1,200 in checks and cash from an Appleton drive-in, was placed on probation Monday afternoon to the State Department of Health and Social Services (formerly State Department of Public Welfare).

The youth was found delinquent by Judge D. H. Sebora of Calumet County juvenile court. The youth lives in the Calumet County portion of Appleton. The other youth involved in the burglary at Dag-Mar's Drive-In, 1309 E. Wisconsin Ave., is scheduled for an appearance in Outagamie County juvenile court.

Both youths were taken into custody following investigation by Appleton detectives. Some of the money was recovered. The youth who appeared in juvenile court here Monday was represented by an attorney. Judge Sebora ordered the youth to make his share of restitution.

Charity Frame for Fashion

Fashion and an interest in charity combined neatly Monday afternoon as members of the Service Circle of The King's Daughters and the H. C. Prange Co. combined talents in another successful fall fashion parade. The luncheon event at Butte des Morts Golf Club brought together all the components of a new and exciting fall fashion scene, and the 400 guests assured the Circle of funds to support its Teen Toppers and Service Emergency Fund.

The program, carried out through Kay Grube, fashion coordinator at the store, stressed the newest of the season — the boot, the block-heel shoe, the body-shaping dress, the hat, accessories, color unions and the opaque nylon stocking. The total result is one that makes this autumn different from those of the past, and invites the women of the Fox Cities to take courage and have a bit of fun with the new season.

Miss Margaret Walsh, Circle

president, expressed appreciation to all those who cooperated in assembling the fashion preview, and especially to the women in the audience, whose attendance makes the Circle's work possible. Mrs. S. H. Van Steen was show chairman, with Mrs. F. J. Bloomer assisting as co-chairman.

Three of the Professional models who showed the fall fashion picture in "The Art of Fashion—Every Woman's Game" Monday at Butte des Morts Golf Club, waited their turn to walk past the 400 luncheon guests. Three of the important looks are the big check, done in a dress and coat ensemble, the body skimmer, with gentle shaping, and the accessory look, with colored opaque stockings and matching hat and gloves setting an entirely new fall note.

A Group of Kaukauna women attended the annual fall fashion event together. Above, just before the afternoon began, are Mrs. Leroy Klein, Mrs. Clarence Thelen, Mrs. Cyril Klein, Mrs. Harland Schuh and Mrs. Richard Wolf. At right, members of the committee relaxed and indulged themselves in enjoyment of the show. They are Mrs. Charles Heeter, Mrs. Larry Ryan, Mrs. Allen Hansen and Mrs. Arthur Diedrich.

Robb Family Kept Secret for a Month

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. James S. Robb of Milwaukee, who lives in San Diego, said Monday their son, Ma-Calif., and David, 22, a senior in the summer of 1966 and at a lighted with Charlie as a son-in-law, had married in the White House.

Her comment was: "Mother law."

Marguerite had visited her brother in Washington just two weeks ago, and was a guest in the White House.

Of Lynda, she said: "We drank cokes together and talked. I thought she was very nice—easy going. But I sure was surprised about the engagement."

Mrs. Robb said the engaged couple called Sunday night and met at 4:30 p.m. and advanced hour.

at 2:30 p.m. Saturday.

Riding Lessons, Girls Chorus Set at YMCA

Her husband is district sales manager for American Airlines in Wisconsin. She is an advertising coordinator for a Milwaukee fashion store. They are for-mer residents of Washington.

The parents said they had kept mum about the engagement for a month.

"It's a little like having an appendectomy. Now that the surgery's over, you know you'll get better," laughed Mrs. Robb.

The family, besieged by news media representatives, changed p.m. Wednesday at the Y. Mrs. Clifford Vincent will conduct tryouts.

Novice Sometimes Is Right

A beginner sometimes wastes his trumps by ruffing in his own hand. He runs out of trumps, loses control of the hand and causes his partner to make uncouth noises. All very sad, but this doesn't mean that declarer must never, never ruff in his own hand.

The average experienced player would win the first trick with the ace of hearts, take the ace of clubs and give up a club. He would later ruff a club in dummy and try to draw trumps. Too late he would discover that West has a sure trump trick and that he must also lose a club and two diamonds.

The beginner and the expert would start the hand properly. At the second trick declarer must ruff one of dummy's small hearts.

South's next step is to give up a low club. East wins and returns a trump to South's ace. South cashes the ace of clubs, ruffs a club in dummy and then ruffs another heart.

Tests Trumps

Declarer can now afford to test the trumps by leading out the king. When East shows out, South does not panic. He leads a diamond to dummy's ace and ruffs a heart for the third time.

By this time South has taken nine tricks and still has the queen of spades in his hand. Nothing can defeat the contract.

The time to draw trumps quickly is when you must prevent the defenders from ruffing your tricks in the side suits. In this hand declarer's aces will take tricks even if he leaves the trumps out. South can therefore afford to take precautions against bad trump breaks. The way to do so is to win the low trumps in the South hand by way of safe ruffs.

Daily Question

As dealer, you hold: S-7 2, H-A J 6 3, D-A Q 8 5 4, C-5 2. What do you say?

Answer: Pass. This is a borderline opening bid, and most experts would open it with five hearts and four diamonds but not with four hearts and five diamonds. It is difficult to find safe rebids with the actual hand, and no law compels you to open a borderline hand when you see danger ahead.

Wedding Promises Repeated

St. John Lutheran Church, Watertown, was the setting for the 4:30 p.m. Saturday wedding of Miss Betty Jane Numrich, Milwaukee, and Frederick H. Eggers, Chilton. The Rev. Theodore A. Eggers, father of the bridegroom, and the Rev. Victor Kuerschner, of Zion Lutheran Church, New Holstein, a cousin of the bride, officiated at the rite.

Symphony League Prepares For Sept. 18 Founding Tea

For members of the newly Symphony Association, will also organized Fox Valley Symphony speak.

League and guests, the fall season in area music will officially begin Sept. 18. That is the date chosen for the 1:30 p.m. Founding Tea, to be held at the Home Mutual Insurance Co. community room.

Excited about the new Fox Valley Symphony season and their own participation in supporting it, members of the League have announced a program for the tea. Karlos Moser, conductor of the Fox Valley Symphony, will be on hand to present a musically illustrated talk on the program planned for the coming season, and to open Oct. 22. Robert Sigman, president of the Fox Valley event is open not only to those who love music, but to all those who recognize the cultural importance of a community having its own symphony orchestra. There are 85 symphony women's organizations in the U.S., with a collective total of 226 benefit projects to their credit.

Mrs. Harold Adams, symphony League president, will welcome guests and introduce Mr. Moser. Tentative project plans will be announced. Mrs. Luther Rogers is tea chairman, assisted by Mrs. Kenneth Wruck, Neenah.

The tea is open to the public. Hoping to encourage as many women as possible to support the symphony, the League has sent invitations to members of area women's organizations. The event is open not only to those who love music, but to all those who recognize the cultural importance of a community having its own symphony orchestra.

There are 85 symphony women's organizations in the U.S., with a collective total of 226 benefit projects to their credit.

The League has announced the appointment of Mrs. Kenneth Poppy, Kimberly, as membership chairman there. She resides in Madison. Six area chairmen are working in their individual towns and cities to encourage valley-wide support of the new League.

Season tickets to the Fox Valley concerts will be available at the tea and guests will be invited to join the new Symphony League.

Your Problems

Some Parents Never Realize Cruelty of Comparing Siblings

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS I am 16 and getting to hate my older brother who is 18, not because of anything he has done but because people keep comparing me to him and throwing him up to me.

Steve is smarter than I am and I know it. He has been on the honor roll ever since I can remember. I am an average student — mostly B's and some C's. Whenever report cards come out my dad says to Steve, "Honor roll again. Well, I expected it." Then he turns to me and says, "If Steve can make the honor roll why can't you?"

Steve didn't date until a few months ago. My folks think I'm a sex maniac because at age 16 I like girls. Whenever I say I have a date I get a small lecture on how Steve didn't date until he was 18 and maybe that's why he makes better grades.

It isn't only my folks, it's the teachers, too. When I made D on an important exam my math teacher said, "Apparently your brother Steve got all the brains in the family." I felt like two cents waiting for change.

I hope you will give me advice on how to handle this problem. And maybe if you'd print my letter it might help some other kids. There's got to be plenty of guys in this world besides me who have smarter older brothers. — Inferior Son

Dear Son: I wish all parents and teachers who do this terrible thing to their children could be rounded up and seated in one large arena and be given a blistering lecture. But no arena could hold them all because they run into the millions.

Comparing kids is cruel, and it accomplishes nothing except to increase hostility and take the starch out of the ones who don't do so well. Some kids become completely crushed by comparisons. They give up completely and refuse to do anything but blame themselves against suffering from comparisons.

To you, I say, forgive your parents and teachers for their ignorance. Measure your efforts against your own standards, which, of course, should be high enough so that you will have to put forth your best efforts.

DEAR ANN LANDERS I am 26 years of age and have been married for three years. My husband is 35. I want a baby so bad I can hardly stand it. My husband says, "Absolutely no children."

When I ask him "Why?" he says things like this: "You are too dumb to be a mother. You would probably leave the baby somewhere."

I think the real reason he doesn't want a family is because he is too immature to accept the responsibility. Also, he is quite vain and enjoys thinking of himself as Perpetual Youth.

I know I would be a wonderful mother. Ann, and I'm willing to bet that my husband would be a good father, once he had a family. He's fine with other people's children. Please tell me what you think about this situation. How can I get his approval? — G.C.

Dear G.C.: You don't need his approval, honey. All you need is his biological cooperation. And by the way, what did you two talk about when you were going together?

A wife who wants a family should not be denied this fulfillment. Stop talking and get busy.

Marriage Promises Exchanged

Miss Jean Bellinghausen became the bride of James Bryan Williams Jr. in a 1 p.m. Saturday ceremony at St. Joseph Catholic Church. The Rev. George Helseler, O.F.M., Cap., officiated at the double ring rite.

The bride, daughter of Mrs. Arthur Bellinghausen, 225 N. Meade St., and the late Mr. Bellinghausen, was escorted to the altar by her uncle, John E. Foley, Arlington Heights, Ill. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. James Bryan Williams, Lexington, Mass.

Miss Gail Bellinghausen, a sister of the bride, attended as maid of honor.

James C. Thompson, Haverford, Pa., performed the duties of best man.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's mother.

The new Mrs. Williams attended Vassar College, Poughkeepsie, N. Y. Her husband, who attended Princeton University, Princeton, N. J., is serving with the Marine Corps at the Philadelphia Naval Base.

After a honeymoon in Ontario, the couple will reside in Philadelphia.

Lynda, Fiance Talk Of Wedding Plans

WASHINGTON (AP) — I'm the sudden flood of interest in happy Lynda, said the President's tall Marine career officer, wife, there are such stars in assigned him his own press aide — 25-year-old Navy Lt. (jg) Ryan Lamb of Lafayette, Ind. The White House immediately began referring all queries to Lamb, who is on the staff of the assistant secretary of defense for public affairs.

One of his first tasks was to give out the information that Robb will be assigned to Vietnam in mid-March, not February as first announced.

Lynda and Robb said most of their plans for the future have not been worked out. Lynda said she didn't know whether she will continue to live in the White House after Robb is sent to Vietnam.

One thing was sure, however. When he goes on duty in Vietnam, Robb will not have a Secret Service guard.

"There is no Secret Service agent for the President's son-in-law Patrick Nugent, and there would be none for Charles Robb when he marries the President's daughter, Lynda," a White House spokesman said.

Lynda Bird Johnson, 23 and her fiance, Capt. Charles S. Robb, 28 met reporters Monday on the south lawn of the White House. Robb's duty station on this occasion as a White House social aide. Robb, whose family lives in Milwaukee, Wis., said he asked President Johnson for Lynda's hand in marriage.

Wouldn't Repeat

But he said he didn't want to try to recite the reply because "I wouldn't want to misquote him."

Lynda chimed in: "You know the President doesn't like for somebody else to quote him."

In Milwaukee, Robb's mother, a fashion designer, said she had talked to her son and Lynda Sunday night by phone from the LBJ Ranch in Texas where their engagement was announced. "We're just happy the news is out and we can tell everybody," she said.

Her husband, James, an airlines sales executive, said he thinks President Johnson "will be delighted with Charlie as a son-in-law."

Too Much

Then the Robb family, besieged with calls from inquiring reporters and the more curious members of the public, asked the telephone company to give them an unlisted number.

In Washington, Bess Abell, the first lady's press secretary, said the wedding, set for an unspecified date in early December, would be in the East Room of the White House.

The historic ballroom was the site of the 1906 wedding of President Theodore Roosevelt's daughter, Alice, to Nicholas Longworth, speaker of the House of Representatives.

Princess Grace, Elizabeth Taylor At Costume Ball

VENICE, Italy (AP)—Elizabeth Taylor and Princess Grace of Monaco stole the show Sunday at a costume ball that lasted until dawn.

Miss Taylor and her husband, Richard Burton, and Princess Grace and her husband, Prince Rainier, were chatting with shipping magnate Aristotle Onassis when other guests flocked around them.

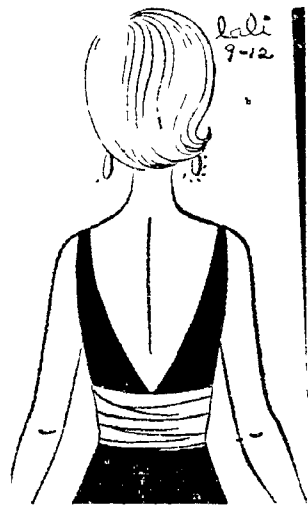

Miss Taylor was striking in a low-cut bejeweled white gown, while Princess Grace, the former actress Grace Kelly, wore a glittering burnoose, sequins pasted around her eyes, and a jeweled Arab veil. Among guests attending the gala were Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy, mother of the late President, Clare Boothe Luce, former U.S. ambassador to Italy, Douglas Sides, Mrs. H.J. Heinz touch — straight up. The towels give a ironed over.

In late-day dresses, necklines are whimsical. They either hug the throat, turtleneck fashion, or plunge all the way down to there. The Lovely who wishes to wear the plunging line will want to be sure that her throat and shoulders are trim and smooth.

If she entertains any doubts, she should make use of the routines that follow. The action is both slimming and firming.

1. For the Throat. Sit erect on the edge of a straight chair. Raise your chest and drop your shoulders; pull your neck up and hold your chin parallel to the floor. Keeping your shoulders still, slowly thrust the chin straight forward as far as possible. Return to the starting position by drawing your head sharply back. Repeat 10 to 20 times.

2. For the Shoulders. Stand erect, your shoulders down and your head high. Grasp the collarbones with your hands, thumbs to front. Now very slowly move your elbows this way — straight up — straight down to shoulder level — out to require a sleeve board. If you do not have one, try wrapping a large clean turkish towel around your shoulders, pad the firm padded surface, which can rolling pin until you get it of sufficient size. The towels give a ironed over.

give relief from muscular tension in the upper back. Thus they contribute to loveliness in several ways. The throat, shoulders, low necklines and the face all look handsomer.

Lady Godiva Took Last Ride 900 Years Ago

COVENTRY, England (AP)—Lady Godiva's home town observed the 900th anniversary of her death Sunday with a procession and unveiling of a plaque on what is believed to be her burial place.

An ancient law book, recently found to contain a reference to her death, was borne through the streets where the Saxon lady reputedly rode naked to exempt her townspeople from a tax.

Original Records

The old book originally belonged to an abbey founded by Godiva and her husband, Earl Leofric, and an entry notes her death as Sept. 10, 1067.

The Very Rev. Harold Williams, addressing a crowd of 2,000 at commemoration ceremonies, praised Lady Godiva as a champion of the poor who "wielded authority with compassion."

Hand Made Elegance

Latest gloves are real finger-snapping fashion. They're boldly styled, free flexing in action, and specifically designed for fall's fresh new look.

Among the season's glove leathers are soft kid, suede, deerskin, pigskin, cape and doeskin. In lengths from shortie to elbow and above, leather gloves meet all occasions.

Daytime gloves can be fun — when they're printed, striped, checked, plaided or animal-marked leathers. For sport, some have zippy openings, appliques, chains. Some show geometric designs, or have military insignia or other appliques on the back.

The racing glove, with back and knuckle openings, is still important. Sporty shorties keep hardware on hand, in leather gloves decorated at wrist with chain, industrial zippers or other bits of brass.

For evening are elegant long gloves of creamy kid and suede. Shorter gloves take beading, jewels, feathers, fur

Women Foresters Give Seminary Scholarship

NEENAH — The Green Bay Diocesan National Catholic Society of Foresters presented its 19th annual Bishop Bona Seminary Scholarship Sunday.

The presentation was made at the group's 20th annual luncheon on Sept. 10 at St. Margaret Mary School. Over 180 delegates attended from Menasha, Oshkosh, Appleton, Kimberly, Little Chute and Kaukauna. St. Margaret Mary Court 530 hosted the event.

Miss Rosemary Trittin, president of the NCSF Diocesan association, made the presentation. The Rev. Robert Colle, rector of Sacred Heart Seminary, Oneida, accepted the $500 scholarship on behalf of the NCSF as special field representative from 1941 to 1955, and as a full-time representative until her recent retirement.

A check was presented to Mrs. Alvin Zettel, host court president, from the NCSF, in observance of St. Margaret Mary Court's 25th anniversary.

Mrs. Domino also presented a $25 savings bond to Lisa Ann Mueller, Kewaunee, a third place winner in the NCSF Junior Essay contest. Miss Mueller, a seventh grade member of St. Cabrini Court 794, was the only winner in the Green Bay diocese.

Keep Up Standards
Disclosed Jacques Rouet, Dior general manager and director: "Our main objective was to keep up the standards of Dior's quality. Another is to retain the traditional Dior spirit—youth, chic, and always Parisian and chic."

The Miss Dior collection lives up to all expectations in styling, quality and price. Designed by Philippe Guibourge, once in charge of the Dior London boutique, the clothes are what every woman needs and wants — particularly in Paris where tourists want things in a hurry.

Size and Colors
On-the-racks models are arranged according to sizes and colors. Adjustments in hemlines are made practically instantly. Minor alterations to necklines and sleeves are done in the matter of hours.

Cocktail ensembles run around $200, coats around $100 and suits around $125.

Honored Members
Mrs. Anthony Domino, Chicago, national president, honoring Mrs. J. W. Appleton, Little Chute, for her contribution to the NCSF as special field representative from 1941 to 1955, and as a full-time representative until her recent retirement.

A check was presented to Mrs. Alvin Zettel, host court president, from the NCSF, in observance of St. Margaret Mary Court's 25th anniversary.

Mrs. Domino also presented a $25 savings bond to Lisa Ann Mueller, Kewaunee, a third place winner in the NCSF Junior Essay contest. Miss Mueller, a seventh grade member of St. Cabrini Court 794, was the only winner in the Green Bay diocese.

Pins Presented
Another highlight of the meeting was the presentation of NCSF award pins to Mrs. Joseph Otradovec, Green Bay, retiring president, and Miss Regina Piascecki, Green Bay, founding president for their roles as presidents and for their promotions of fraternalism and Catholic action in the diocese.

A seminar for financial and recording secretaries was conducted by Mrs. Domino, who also explained the new society ritual. Assisting her were Mrs. George Haas, Detroit Lake, Minn., national vice president, Mrs. Bernard Esselman, Athens, and Miss Piascecki, members of the board of directors.

Catholic Priest's
Marriage Told

LONDON (AP)—The Rev. Stanley Grabowski, 39-year-old Roman Catholic priest from Bayonne, N.J., was married last Aug. 26 in a Church of England ceremony at Harrow, Middlesex, just north of London, an Anglican vicar said Sunday.

The Rev. Raleigh Prater, vicar of Christ Church, Harrow, said the bride, Miss Audrey Faye, was an Anglo-Indian, of mixed British and Indian blood, residing in his parish.

"They had to be married by a special license obtained from the diocesan registrar," he said. "I could not marry them in a normal way because he is an American and she Anglo-Indian."

The Rev. Prater said he understood Father Grabowski returned to the United States alone after asking to be supplied with extra copies of the marriage certificate. The vicar said he did not know the present whereabouts of his wife.

Spindler Quits State CCHE Post

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Harry K. Spindler will resign as director of the Wisconsin Coordinating Committee for Higher Education and become budget director for the State Universities of New York on Nov. 1.

The move by Spindler, a mainstay on the fledgling staff of the state coordinating agency, will move the youthful academic administrator to a high level in the New York educational structure and will win him a $7,000 a year pay boost over his Wisconsin salary of $23,000.

The appointment had been predicted in a Post - Crescent Madison bureau dispatch.

Chief Budget Officer

Spindler has been chief budget officer of the Coordinating Committee staff since its restructuring.

Funeral services were held today in Plainfield, N.J., for David C. Murchison, 71, Plainfield, president of the Tomahawk Paper and Pulp Co., Tomahawk, Wis., and chairman of the board of the Georgia Kaolin Co., Elizabeth, N.J.

Murchison, who died Sunday after a long illness, and a group of associates purchased the Tomahawk firm in 1962. The company is now a leading producer of groundwood pulp.

In his 30-year career with the Georgia Kaolin Co., Murchison served as product manager, sales manager and executive vice president.

He was a member of North Shore Golf Club, Menasha.

ing in 1965. As head budget officer of the sprawling New York system, he will be accountable to the chancellor and vice chancellor of the 65 campus system.

The $400 million a year funded organization includes 21 four-year campus, 35 community colleges, and associated architectural, medical, forestry and veterinary schools on private college campuses.

No replacement has yet been selected for Spindler.

MADISON — Reappointment of Robert D. Haase, former Marinette legislator and one-time speaker of the Wisconsin Assembly, as commissioner of the State Department of Insurance was announced today by Gov. Warren P. Knowles.

Haase will serve a new four-year term, if the state Senate this fall confirms his nomination, as expected because of his long association with the Republican majority party of that house.

Aggressive Interest

The head of the state insurance supervision agency is 44-years-old and served for a decade in the Assembly before he was named to his full-time office in one of the first acts of Gov. Knowles during his first term.

As commissioner he has shown an aggressive interest in revising state insurance laws. He has sponsored legislation to curtail the right of auto insurance companies to cancel policies, and to permit public inspection and publicity on rate filings, now prohibited until such filings become effective.

He is a lawyer and a bachelor. During the last year he has lectured on insurance topics on a part-time basis in the School of Commerce of the University of Wisconsin.

Haase came to the legislature as a young man in 1956 and rose swiftly before being elected speaker of the house in the 1963 session.

School Board, Teachers Okay New Contract

Written Agreement Is First in History Of Appleton System

For the first time in the history of the Appleton school system, a written agreement has been negotiated, and approved Monday between the board of education and a legal bargaining group for teachers.

Terms of the contract between the board and the Appleton Education Association had been agreed to last March, setting beginning teachers' salaries for a bachelor's degree at $5,400 and escalating to $9,746 based on teaching experience, master's degree requisition and extra graduate credits. Salary schedules range from $5,750 to $10,215 as of Jan. 1, 1968.

Final wording and amendments involving extra pay for teaching additional classes, supervision of the cafeteria or lunch room and chaperoning students while traveling for activities not related to academic training were added to the contract Monday.

Teachers' Action

Kenneth Sager, chairman of the board's professional improvement committee, brought the contract to the board meeting Monday night and indicated that it had been approved by the teachers group Monday afternoon. Working on the negotiations with Sager were board members Ronald Roberts and Mrs. Helen Heil.

After the contract was approved the board acted on a request from Salvatore Tralongo, president of Appleton Teachers Union (ATU) that he and other union officers be permitted to attend the Wisconsin Federation of Teachers (WFT) Convention in Milwaukee Oct. 5-6, with pay.

The board decided since WEA is the official negotiating group for teachers, and since that group will be attending its convention, with pay, Nov. 2-3 in Milwaukee, it would authorize WFT attendance by ATU members without pay if suitable substitute teachers can be found. This is the same action the board took last year on the two conventions.

Police Recover Drowning Victim From Fox River

OSHKOSH — The body of George C. Griedl, 69, of 226 Foster St., Oshkosh, was recovered from the Fox River by city police at 10:50 a.m. Tuesday.

Coroner Art C. Miller said that Griedl was apparently fishing from the Soo Line Railroad bridge when he suffered a heart attack and fell into the river.

Clarence Hartman, bridge tender, discovered the body and called police, Miller reported.

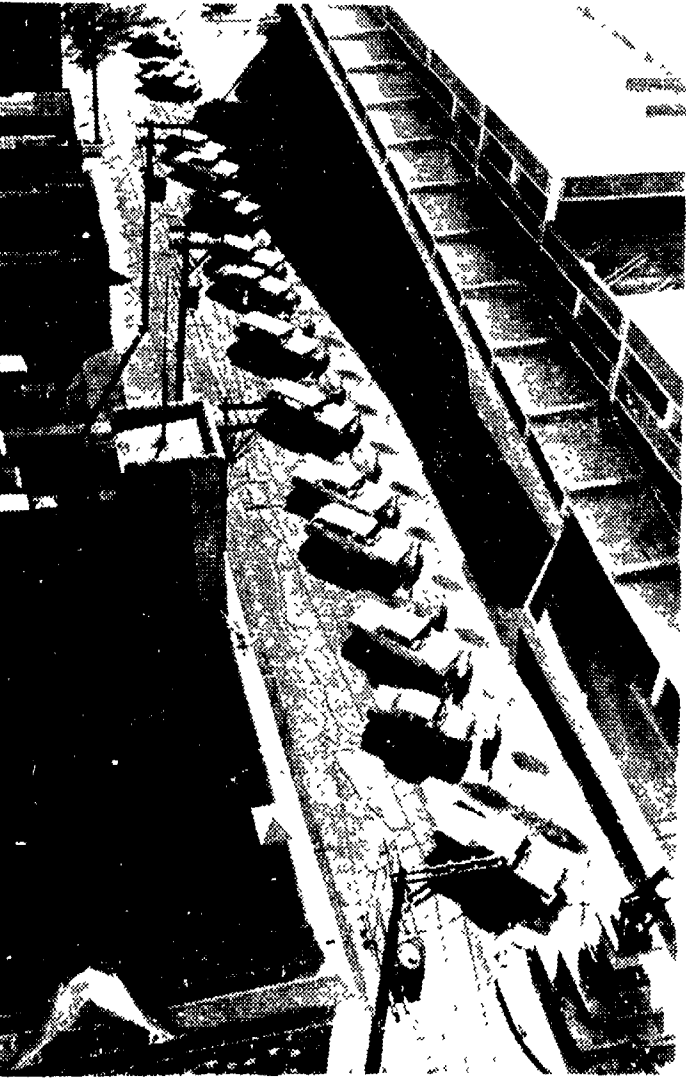

Griedl was the husband of Ruby Griedl, Miller said.

Call 72 Jurors In McBrair Murder Trial

Opening Arguments Expected Thursday In Wautoma Slayings

BARABOO (AP) — Seventy-two prospective jurors were called Monday as James A. McBrair, 27, of Wautoma went on trial on charges of murdering four persons.

Seventy-two more names were drawn for today.

Circuit Judge Robert Gollmar said opening arguments might be presented by Thursday. The trial, in two parts, is expected to take two weeks.

McBrair is accused in the shootings of his estranged wife, her stepfather and stepister and a 14-year-old babysitter in a cottage near Wautoma last March 5.

Pleads Innocent

He has pleaded innocent and innocent by reason of insanity. Because of a Wisconsin Supreme Court ruling this year, the trial will be broken into two segments with the jury deliberating twice.

The first part of the trial will consider whether the defendant committed the crime.

If he is found guilty, the jury will hear more testimony on the insanity issue and then retire again to decide that question.

The trial was moved from Wautoma on a change of venue

Refuses to Share Costs

County Says 'No' to Funds for Avenue

Outagamie County will not allocate $100,000 in secondary highway aids to help defray the $1.1 million cost of downtown College Avenue reconstruction, Mayor George Buckley was notified today.

The turnout was disclosed in a letter sent the mayor by Sylvester Esler, Appleton chairman of the Outagamie County Board of Supervisors.

However, Esler did say the county highway committee is agreeable to participating in a project linked to the proposed Tri County Expressway, and the matter would come up at September's board meeting.

Construction Worker Suffers Foot Injury

James Herbst, 36, 547 W. Griedl was apparently fishing from the Soo Line Railroad bridge when he suffered a heart attack and fell into the river.

Clarence Hartman, bridge tender, discovered the body and called police, Miller reported.

Griedl was the husband of Ruby Griedl, Miller said.

Herbst is a construction worker at the new school.

On a third point, Esler said Esler's letter, but said it came the county would also be willing as no surprise.

Several months ago Mayor Buckley and other city officials held conferences with representatives of the county board's executive and highway committees receiving a verbal commitment that the requested $100,000 would be made available to the city in June.

At a recent city council meeting, a resolution was adopted and sent to the county clerk requesting the matter of the $100,000 for avenue reconstruction and the $34,000 for rebuilding E. John Street be considered by the entire board.

Disappointment

City officials have been critical of Esler and other county officials, alleging they have been keeping information from the county board.

Mayor Buckley indicated his disappointment upon receiving

Ald. Arthur Hoolihan (11th), who also serves as a member of the county board.

Hoolihan said he intends to press for action on the city's request for the $100,000, putting the matter before the entire

Board to Ask Council for School Bond

Group Okays Floor Plans for Addition, Elementary School

Floor plans were approved Monday night and a request to the city council was authorized asking it to proceed with bonding in the amount of $1,950,000 to complete the construction of the southside elementary school and the addition to Madison Junior High School.

Members of the board of education at a meeting which lasted until 1:30 a.m. today also authorized architects on the two buildings to begin work on the detailed plans and specifications.

November Target Dates

Target date for opening bids on Madison Junior High School is Nov. 20, and for the elementary school, Nov. 1. Opening of both schools is planned for the fall of 1968.

In its request to the council, the board is allowing $500,000 to build the addition on the junior high school and $1,450,000 for the southside building, which William Buchanan, board president, said is "practically a duplicate of Highlands School."

The junior high addition will include five classrooms on the first floor, two with folding partitions, lavatories, teachers work rooms, and a team teaching room for a capacity of 150 students. This large-group instruction room will be acoustically built to handle future television, films, and include

After a five-minute recess the board authorized the expenditure of not more than $1,000 for roads, lack of sidewalks, an immediate survey to determine how much it would cost to transport students who live more than 1.5 miles from any school in the Appleton district.

Last fall the board had made an exception, at a cost of $7,500, and provided transportation for pupils, primarily south of Calumet Street, to Johnston school. They based their decision on the poor roads and almost complete lack of sidewalks.

New State Law

William Buchanan, president of the board, attempted to explain to the group that under the "uniformity consideration" of the new state transportation law, if "we make an exception to board policy for one group, one exception must apply similarly for all students, including those who attend parochial schools."

State law provides that any student who lives more than two miles from an assigned school, and outside of the city limits, must have public transportation.

However, the southside residents asked the board to again contact the State Department of Public Instruction to determine if the Johnston School area could be considered a "hardship" case, and an exception be made.

William Spears, superintendent, said although he already had a "no" answer on this question as recently as last Thursday, he would again outline the situation to the state.

Many residents who spoke from the floor said they had been assured when they moved into the Johnston School area that transportation would be

Proposed VTE-12 Budget Calls for 1.1 Mill Rate; Public Hearing Sept. 25

A tentative budget of $2.8 million was approved by the Vocational Technical Education District 12 (VTE-12) board Monday night with more than one-third of the anticipated expenditures earmarked for new developments in the four county district.

The budget represents a 20 per cent increase over the combined expense of operating the Appleton, Brillion, Kaukauna, Kimberly, Neenah, Menasha and Oshkosh vocational schools during the current year.

Anticipated revenues for 1968 have been set at $797,043, made up of state and federal aids, sales, driver education, registrations, tuitions and miscellaneous refunds.

This leaves $1,986,852 to be produced by local taxes. Applied against the district's equalized valuation of $1,859,798,200, the levy would require a 1.1 mill rate or $1.10 per $1,000 of full value. State law provides that a maximum of 2 mills can be levied by vocational districts.

Hearing Set

Affected by the taxes will be 99 cities, towns and villages in the four-county area of Winnebago, Waupaca, Outagamie and Calumet plus portions of five bordering counties. District 12 is made up of 25 independent school districts.

The budget will be presented at a public hearing 8 p.m. Sept. 25, at the Appleton Vocational Technical and Adult School.

The major added item in the proposed budget is for development of the new VTE-12 district about 15 Oshkosh citizens representing the city's "WWW" (Wonderful Wisconsin Week) plan to give Wisconsin citizens a chance to examine and "plan a bright future" for their community.

Knowles visited briefly with Oshkosh residents Tuesday afternoon, set for Sept. 17-23. The budget will be presented at a public hearing 8 p.m. Sept. 25, at the Appleton Vocational Technical and Adult School.

Port Zoning To be Aired

County Committee Plans to Discuss Minimum Standards

The Outagamie County Airport committee will meet at 7 p.m. today at the courthouse to discuss minimum zoning standards for airport property.

The meeting will be the first of several on the subject. The committee will attempt to develop minimum standards governing rental of airport property and what types of structures may be built, according to Supv. Stanley Gillespie (Grand Chute), committee secretary.

May Take Year

"It may be a year before we present the standards to the county board for adoption," Gillespie said.

Tonight's meeting will consider what is being done at other airports throughout Wisconsin in setting up minimum zoning standards.

"All other airports have these type of standards," Gillespie said. "The reason for our delay is largely due to the 'unexpected' growth rate of the airport over the past two years."

Outagamie Airport Director Proposed

Growth of Business May Prompt Change From Part-Time Manager

Naming a full-time director, also said it would allow for more efforts in uniform airport development. In other business Monday, the airport committee. — Continued

The subject was introduced by Supv. Robert Weyenberg. (Kimberly), during discussion on a new contract for the present airport manager, Max Sagunsky. The present one expires Jan. 1.

"We're going to need an airport director," Weyenberg said. "We can't keep running the airport like we have in the past with only a part-time airport manager."

Sagunsky noted that the airport is growing and may need a full-time director in the future, but that the operation has not yet "gotten out of hand."

Committee Chairman Supv. Paul Kostka (Little Chute) felt a change at this time was unnecessary and added that he felt Sagunsky should be given a raise.

More Discussion

"We aren't getting $5,700 worth of work out of the airport manager now," Weyenberg retorted.

Discussion on the $5,700 contract was tabled for future consideration.

"There will be lots more discussion on this subject," noted Supv. Gillespie. (Grand Chute) secretary of the committee.

Gillespie said the increased traffic being handled by the airport and the almost certain chance for further increase has made the airport manager system less adequate than before.

"With the way the area and the airport are developing, the duties for an airport manager are constantly increasing," Gillespie said.

Free Committee

He noted that a full-time director would free the airport committee from the many details of the airport's operation it must consider each month. He

Both Sides Represented

Chamber Meeting Will Air University Site Selection

NEENAH - MENASHA — The board of directors of the Neenah-Menasha Chamber of Commerce voted Monday to hold a meeting airing both sides of the controversial site selection for the new University of Wisconsin - Green Bay.

A request had come to the chamber from the "Area Joint Education Committee" for a meeting to explain the Outagamie County position.

Chamber directors agreed that a meeting should be held, but voted to have both sides of the site selection issue represented.

Outagamie County is pushing for a shift from the Shorewood site on the northeast side of Green Bay to the Larsen site on the west side of Green Bay on U.S. 41.

The Rogers Bill, which forces the shift, has been approved by the assembly and will be taken up by the senate when the legislature reconvenes next month.

No date has been set yet for the meeting in Neenah-Menasha.

At this point it is undecided if the Neenah-Menasha chamber will take a stand on the Rogers Bill.

One director expressed the opinion that the chamber should not get involved, since most Neenah-Menasha students attend Wisconsin State University - Oshkosh.

Landmark Set For Demolition

NEENAH — Most of the windows have been removed from the once-proud Valley Inn in preparation for the wreckers who will soon reduce the 50-year-old landmark to rubble.

A wrecking permit was issued this morning to S. N. Pickard, owner of the four-story hotel which closed its doors on May 26.

In charge of the demolition will be crews from Northwestern Wrecking Co., Milwaukee.

The Valley Inn, which once was considered "The Pride of the Valley," closed its doors less than four months ago and its fixtures were stripped and sold in a sale held by Goodwill Industries in mid-June.

By June 22, only the skeleton of the 65-room hotel remained as Neenah social activity for nostalgic persons and bargain hunters purchased the entire inventory as well as the fixtures off the walls.

The building has been blocked off to the public for the past three months and several large windows have been sold and removed, leaving only the faded green brick structure.

The hotel was constructed on the site of a large feed mill in 1917 and was the focal point of Neenah social activity for decades. The building passed through the hands of several businessmen and was on the verge of closing when Pickard purchased the operation in 1961.

Twin City Redevelopment Tops Chamber Work List

NEENAH - MENASHA — The Chamber President Donald Collins explained that every priority item in a seven part work program for the Neenah-Menasha Chamber of Commerce service lists between 600 and for the next year is redevelopment.

In addition to raising funds for the initial redevelopment efforts, the chamber will assist, encourage, stimulate and guide redevelopment authorities in every way possible.

The work program was adopted by the chamber board of directors at a noon meeting Monday.

The second priority item is the encouragement of industrial expansion. The emphasis under this section is on expansion of existing industry and attraction of new employees to live and shop in the Twin Cities.

Industrial Emphasis The program also includes the encouragement of new "compatible and complementary industry," but no emphasis will be placed on establishment of completely new types of plants.

Chamber President Donald Collins explained that every priority item in a seven part work program for the Neenah-Menasha Chamber of Commerce service lists between 600 and for the next year is redevelopment. going begging in this area and therefore new industry is not the first order of business at this time. At the top of the third section of the program is work toward construction of the new bridge over Little Lake Butte des Morts.

The chamber will also push for the Cecil Street interchange in Neenah, the regional expressway system and better city traffic patterns.

Other items of work include the encouragement of retail and service enterprises in conjunction with redevelopment plans, awareness in governmental and civic affairs, participation in the Tri-County Chamber of Commerce and Businessmen's Association, and increased participation in chamber activities.

Huge Warehouse Added by Kampo

MENASHA — The footings are being poured for the fourth huge building project of Kampo Warehousing, Inc., in little more than two years in the Twin City area.

Town of Menasha Building Inspector Douglas Kautman issued a permit for a 125,000 square foot warehouse on the west side of the town near Chapman Avenue and Green Bay Road.

The metal building, which will cost in excess of $180,000, will measure about 250 feet by 500 feet. It will be located to the north of the present two warehouses owned by the firm.

With the addition, the company will have more than 600,000 square feet of warehousing under roofs in both the towns of Neenah and Menasha.

Riot Equipment Recommended By Council Unit

Committee to Study Purchase, Police Training Program

KAUKAUNA — The public protection and safety committee of the common council has recommended to the purchasing committee the purchase of riot control equipment for the police department.

In conjunction with the purchase, Chief of Police Harold V. Engerson is to work out a training schedule for use of the equipment and report approximate cost to the purchasing unit.

Earlier this year the council was presented with a list of riot control equipment for a 16-man police force, total cost estimated at $1,185 which did not include the training program.

Considered essential for each man is a riot helmet with face mask, chin strap and case, a tear gas spray with holster and a 36-inch riot stick. Total cost to equip an officer was set at $26.15.

Considered essential for the department as a whole were two riot guns costing $71.25 each, 24 tear gas grenades costing $11.30 each, 12 parachute flares, costing $6.40 each, 12 smoke grenades costing $12.30 each, six long range tear gas cartridges, six short-range cartridges costing a total of $112.80 and one munition vest costing $16 for a total cost of $766.90 for departmental gear.

Judge Cites Need for Aid In Divorces

about reconciliation efforts in most cases

"In 90 per cent of the divorces that come into court, both parties want out," he remarked.

Need Follow-Up

Instead of an "advisor" to the judge, Van Susteren envisioned the social counselor's job in his court as a "probation officer" who would perform such post-divorce duties as bring constant pressure to keep support and alimony payments current, and help alleviate problems over child custody and visitation.

Yet, the aid could, prior to any court appearance, give the parties a "once over lightly" as to prospects for reconciliation.

"A third of the time I devote to divorce court is on the follow-up after divorce," Van Susteren explained. "I wish I had someone to help with this," he said. "If operated correctly, a family court counselor could save the county money," Van Susteren said.

Some SWAG members said they thought the work Van Susteren expected of an aide could not be provided by a social worker. Others disagreed.

Kresge Official To Attend New K mart Opening

One of the S. S. Kresge Co.'s top officials will attend the Thursday opening of the new K mart. He is Fred K. Nieman, vice president of management and store operations, and member of the board of directors.

Nieman joined the first rank as Sales Director eight years ago when Kresge's annual sales were $404 million. He has seen sales increase to $1,090 million a year in 1966.

In 1961, Nieman was elected to the board and appointed vice president of operations.

A key experiment was entrusted to him in 1956 as director of checkout stores. His job was to discover whether a pioneer handful of stores could be converted profitably to self-serve without displacing employees.

Today, 529 of the company's 646 variety stores are self-serve.

Winnebago Court Fines Appleton Man $50 On Reckless Driving

OSHKOSH — Leslie J. Paul, 38, 312 E. Coolidge Ave., Appleton, paid a fine of $50 and costs in Winnebago County Court Branch 3 Tuesday after he was found guilty on a charge of reckless driving.

Paul was arrested July 15 on U. S. 41 in the Town of Oshkosh. The original charge, drunken driving, was amended Tuesday to reckless driving. He had pleaded innocent to the first charge.

Hospital Staff Helped To Trace Disease of Two Neenah Children

NEENAH — Laboratory technicians at Theda Clark Hospital took part in helping detect a highly infectious disease that a turtle transmitted to two children of a Neenah family. The Post-Crescent was informed today.

The information was made known following a story in Sunday's paper concerning children of the Robert E. Frank family, 991 Main St., who were found to have Salmonella.

As the story stated, laboratory tests were done by the State Health Department in Madison, but testing also was done at Theda Clark Hospital, where the Franks' five-year-old son was confined for 13 days while being treated for the disease.

Miss Mary Ann Werner, Neenah public health supervisor, was credited with playing a major part in helping trace the cause of the disease to the Frank boy's pet turtle.

It also was learned that the Franks have destroyed the turtle.

New Downtown Building Urged

Arno Haering and City Planner Walter Rasmussen felt apartmentments represented an interim answer to the vacancy problem. They insisted there could be more modern office facilities on the avenue, and said there was room for apartment's, too.

"As the city grows it will continue to produce pressure in favor of downtown office space," Rasmussen predicted.

The group indicated there was agreement on one thing — it had no control over the situation and the answer was up to private investors and property owners.

However, at one point it was indicated the time may come when private and public resources will have to be used to replace undesirable structures on the avenue.

Buildings Detract

Mrs. Helen Heil said the College Avenue reconstruction and beautification has done much for the city's downtown but felt it was time for building owners to fix up their establishments. "It would be a shame to have old buildings detracting from the Avenue's beauty," she commented.

"I think the owners of some of these older buildings have to be 'sold' on the merits of fixing up their establishments," Haering said. "In the long run they will benefit."

It was conceded that building owners would not be able to undertake major repairs with the income they presently receive from the structures, and that any major projects would represent sizable capital outlays.

The subcommittee will prepare a final report, complete with recommendations, to be presented to the plan commission in the near future.

Board to Ask Council for School Bond

outlets for science demonstration equipment.

Second floor is planned for four science laboratories, with storage areas for each two rooms, two language classrooms and a conference room. William Spears, superintendent, explained this area will be the science laboratory for the entire school, and regular rooms now used for science in the old section will become regular classrooms.

Raymond N. LeVee, who presented the plans for his firm, said that exterior and interior styling will follow as close as possible the materials and design of the older building.

Architects from Schutte, Phillips, Mochan Inc. said test borings are being made now for the elementary school. Plans were left in the superintendent's office for study of the bond.

City Committee Recommends Square Mall Development

feet, with about 7,200 square feet required for a special vehicle access area.

The pedestrian walk area would have a three-inch concrete base with brick on top.

Committee members said it is hoped that responsibility for features, such as fountains, benches, trees, statues and memorials would be assumed by various service organizations.

'Sold' on Idea

"I'm definitely sold on a mall for the area we are talking about," commented Ald. Glenn W. Thompson (13th). "There is a real opportunity to do something for that part of downtown."

The committee was informed by Keuler that regardless of what is done, the Soldiers Square monument will have to be moved further to the west.

The mall plan calls for it to be about mid-block with a small ornamental pool in front of it. An ornamental fountain is proposed for the far west end of the pedestrian walk.

Keuler said a close inspection of the monument showed the base to be in poor condition and that it will have to be rebuilt.

The committee was in agreement that the street should be closed and existing meters removed.

Village Police Hold Youth on Hub Cap Thefts

KIMBERLY — A 17-year-old rural Kaukauna youth is being held by Outagamie County juvenile authorities after being apprehended by Kimberly police on charges of theft and driving after his driver's license was suspended.

The youth was apprehended about 3:15 p.m. Sunday when police noticed his car broken down on the extension of Maes Avenue. They stopped to question him and four other teenagers about the trouble when neighbors informed the officer the youth had carried something from the car into an adjacent field.

Investigating, police found 14 hub caps in the field. The youth admitted taking them on two occasions from cars in Calumet County. Upon questioning by Calumet County officers, four youths were released to parents as they were not implicated in the thefts and the fifth was held for further investigation.

Appleton Man Is In Hospital After Paint Explosion

A 35-year-old rural Appleton man is still in Appleton Memorial Hospital, unable to walk, as a result of serious burns suffered when a can of paint exploded the morning of Aug. 23.

Lawrence E. Turkow, 2936 N. Meade St., suffered second and third degree burns on his legs and hands in the accident at Appleton Neon Sign Co., 1913 E. Northland Ave., where he has worked for several years.

A company spokesman said that an acetylene torch being used near several cans of paint touched off the fire and explosion. Turkow was taken by private car to the hospital, and the fire was extinguished by other employees of the firm.

Turkow, father of four, is undergoing hydro-therapy at the hospital. His wife said it is not known how long he will be hospitalized.

Hollandtown Area Will be Without Electrical Service

Wisconsin Michigan Power Co. has announced that residents of the Hollandtown area will be temporarily without electricity Wednesday afternoon.

The interruption will allow work crews to restring wire on a line in that area, a company spokesman said.

Service to Hollandtown and the two-mile area surrounding the village will be interrupted from 1 to 3:30 p.m. Wednesday. Service will be restored sooner if possible.

Residents of the area are asked to reset their clocks and other automatic equipment after service is restored.

County Says 'No' to $100,000 for Avenue

He said, with this in view, Outagamie County could not pay the $100,000 to the city.

"To do so, would be an invitation for any other city or village to make similar requests," Esler added.

Over the past year, city officials have claimed the county has been participating in such projects, and this met with denial.

The city council then adopted a resolution, forwarding it to the county, asking for a 10-year audit on all projects in Outagamie County in which county funds were used.

City officials never received the audit and the matter was dropped when Esler previously indicated the $100,000 would be made available.

Esler, who previously gave city officials verbal assurance the $100,000 would be made available for the College Avenue reconstruction project, said his letter to the mayor today had been approved by the county highway committee and "written with their knowledge and recommendation."

He said the county has not been receiving federal funds for downtown College Avenue and that he wanted to clarify the matter and erase any misconception of fact.

"Federal secondary highway allotments are based on motor vehicle registration and total miles of highways within the county," Esler continued.

Approved Projects

"It is further pointed out that the Bureau of Public Roads participates only on previously approved projects," Esler added.

Youth Gets Jail Term On License Charge

Dean A. Bann, 18, 215 First St., Menasha, was sentenced to two months in the Outagamie County Jail Monday afternoon after he pleaded guilty of driving after his license was revoked.

Appleton police arrested Bann the afternoon of Sept. 8 at Jefferson and Calumet Streets. The Menasha youth appeared in Outagamie County Court Branch 2.

The one thing no other life insurance company can offer your family...

People, it is sometimes said, are much alike. We can't agree when it comes to life insurance agents. Ours are very different. Mass Mutual agents are an elite corps of skilled professionals who are, we believe, the finest in the industry.

Consider, for example, these three standards: in comparison with industry averages three times as many Mass Mutual agents have earned the Chartered Life Underwriter designation... four times as many have won the National Quality Award...

six times as many are members of the Million Dollar Round Table.

Mass Mutual provides its agents with the very best in policies, training and services—in return we ask a lot of our agents. We ask for more work, more study, more dedication than most people would believe possible.

The result is life insurance that is tailor-made for your family, insurance of the sort an agent would write if he were doing it for himself. When an agent from Mass Mutual calls on you, you know you have at your command the very best the life insurance industry can offer.

After all, isn't that what your family deserves?

Russia Reverses Flight Plan of TV Actress

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — For mer Peyton Place television star Susan Oliver says she planned for two years to fly her light plane from New York to Moscow but now the Russians say "myet."

Miss Oliver, who played Ann Howard in the television serial, had obtained oral permission from the Soviet government, friends said.

The reason for the reversal was not given.

Jingo Picks Only One For Second Viewing

'Judd for the Defense' May Join Ranks Of Notable Lawyers if Pilot Equalled

Jingo and friends are beginning to have a rough time. With the exception of legal eagle Clinton Judd, the man who can pull miracles in a courtroom, most of the Friday night television is on the sad side.

It might even be said it's a frustrating sort of sadness because there are several "could-be-goods" and some which fall in the class of only adequate. There's even one show that's good for insomnia: it encourages slumber.

Judd for the Defense (9-10, Channels 11-6-9) — Clinton Judd, if this series is successful, will join the ranks of America's notable lawyers — Louis Nizer, Clarence Darrow, F. Lee Bailey and Perry Mason. For in Judd we have another of those attorneys who manage the impossible and, like the only fictional member of the above quartet, is expected to discover true guilt as well as clear his client.

The pilot episode had an unusual turn, in that Judd cleared his client (Chris Jones), only to be instrumental later in proving the same youth guilty. The network was sold on the series idea on the basis of this episode, and it was a good one. Tricky endings of this nature cannot be sustained over a season, and guest stars as convincingly real as Chris Jones will not be found every week.

Still, Jingo has every hope that this could be a bright spot in the hum-drum. It is one of the few Jingo is likely to watch a second time — at least the first several nights of sampling.

Based in Texas, Judd (played by a turtle with your name and address on it heading north on will move from location to location, taking only the toughest cases. The series looks good, but as Jingo's luck usually runs, it is ill-timed, appearing on Friday night (not the best TV viewing evening) opposite NBC's news specials and "The Bell Telephone Hour" — two of Jingo's favorites. The competition, though, should lend "Judd" a great assist in the survival battle.

Hondo (7:30-8:30, *Channels 11-6-9) — The title character, portrayed by Ralph Taeger, could be interesting, but too many recurring actors will turn a potentially-exciting series into one step short of a Western soap opera.

Placed in the Arizona Territory (circa 1870), the series is likely to alternate between a continuing Indian battle and problems Hondo has as an ex-Confederate soldier.

Jingo looks for Hondo to be just another Western that doesn't make it. And there are several of those this year.

Off to See the Wizard (6:30-7:30 p.m., Channels 11-6-9) — There's little more to say about this attractively-packaged 60 minutes of kid-vid than that it never seen his neglected dad. Together, grandfather and grandson set out, in hopes of finding their son and father, respectively. (If you're confused — imagine Jingo's mental twaddle!) On the way, they appear fated to shoot up (in a good cause) as many folks as their son and father has shot up in a bad. Ho hum!

This show does accomplish one, not inconsiderable feat, however. It manages to pack 45 minutes of boredom into 30 minutes (less commercial time). Mark down a minus for producers Danny Thomas and Aaron Spelling.

Wayward Turtle Gets Pointed Toward Home

MOUNT AIRY, N.C. (AP) — Last Feb. 2, Jeff Hemric, 13, of Mount Airy found a turtle near his home, carved his name and address on the shell and turned it loose.

A few days ago, Jeff got a postcard from Ohio, which said: "Dear Jeff: I found a small turtle with your name and address on it heading north on U.S. 35 at Jackson, Ohio. I turned him around. Be on the lookout. Signed, Joe Trippie."

serves its purpose — which is to offer to its juvenile audience a highly palatable weekly diet of old Metro-Goldwyn-Maver feature films.

The opener, offered in two parts, is "Clarence, the Cross-Eyed Lion", with a cast and story that is a virtual carbon copy of CBS' "Daktari" show, "Huckleberry Finn", "Tarzan" and "Flipper".

All of these except "Huck" have been the inspiration for TV series — and Mark Twain may be next! It's all very nice, if you love animals (and Mrs. Jingo does), and the cartoon characters who introduce the story each week are nicely drawn, as based on the classic MGM film, "The Wizard of Oz."

The Guns of Will Sonnett (8:30-9 p.m., Channels 11-6-9) —

Walter Brennan's back in yet another format, and this one looks like the weakest yet. Brennan plays Will Sonnett, a veteran of Indian wars, who is the father of a legendary gun-fighter, James Sonnett.

Dack Rambo (one of Loretta Young's former twins) plays James Sonnett's son, who has never seen his neglected dad. Together, grandfather and grandson set out, in hopes of finding their son and father, respectively. (If you're confused — imagine Jingo's mental twaddle!) On the way, they appear fated to shoot up (in a good cause) as many folks as their son and father has shot up in a bad. Ho hum!

This show does accomplish one, not inconsiderable feat, however. It manages to pack 45 minutes of boredom into 30 minutes (less commercial time). Mark down a minus for producers Danny Thomas and Aaron Spelling.

Brigitte Bardot Wants to Become German Citizen

MUNICH, Germany (AP) — Brigitte Bardot's husband, Gunter Sachs, was quoted today as saying his wife wants to become German.

Sachs, in Munich to open an exhibition of his art collection, said in an interview published by the magazine, Bild und Sunk, her decision was dictated by "her love for me and my German compatriots of whom she has become so fond."

He added his actress wife will not give up her French nationality when she becomes a German, the magazine reported.

In this way she wanted to set an example for the much talked of but little practiced German-French understanding. Sachs was further quoted as saying the reconciliation between France and Germany should not only be written on paper, he asserted and the peoples of both nations should know each other better.

Brigitte also is presently in Munich. She arrived just in time for the opening of Sachs' art exhibition.

Bat Hitches Ride on Commercial Airline

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — A three-inch-long bat flew both toward and away from Salt Lake City—aboard a Western Airline.

The tiny mammal flew up and down the aisle of the plane until a passenger stopped its flight with a pillow. The "stowaway" was taken to the Salt Lake City Animal Shelter.

Jerry Lewis Gives TV Another Try

BY TV SCOUT
7-8 Channels 4-5 — The first Jerry Lewis Show is a good one, which should delight his fans and even bring pleasure to those who aren't. From the opening with a group of Greek Dancers performing, and Jerry wounded in the action, to the closing built around the Baja Marimba Band, the show is well produced. The star's proclivity for going on too long is under control. In the major skits, Jerry plays: a schnook trying to make friends in an apartment for singles filled with bikini-clad girls; a janitor pretending to be the chairman of the board in a mimed skit; a buck-toothed expert on love honeymooning with Lynn Redgrave who had kept the news from him that she is a spy. Musical interludes by Sonny and Cher. (C-Premiere)

7:30-8:30 Channels 2-7-12 — Red Skelton teams up with Shakespearean star Maurice Evans for an unusual and entertaining edition of The Red Skelton Hour. The hour is based on "The Seven Ages of Man," taken from "As You Like It." Evans gives a serious reading of the piece: "All the world's a stage, and all the men and women are merely players." That is followed by a second recitation taking it in bits and pieces to provide an introduction for seven of Red's famed characters, ranging from an infant and the "mean widdle kid," to the doddering old man. (C)

9-10 Channels 2-12 — CBS Reports examines in a provocative and sometimes shocking hour, "The New Left," the political, economic, moral and cultural philosophies of our current crop of young dissenters. Their goals range from feeding the world with America's surplus food to breaking up the Democratic party "because they are in power." Many have cast aside Marx and Stalin for Whitman, Emerson and Mao Tse-tung. The program views the new groups in university sit-ins and "free speech demonstrations, political action and civil rights marches and, of course, the hippie movement is covered.

6:30-7 Channels 4-5 — I Dream of Jeannie returns without the use of its highly vaunted scenic effects, but comes off quite well as a result of guest star Larry Storch in the role of a chimpanzee. (C-Premiere)

6:30-7:30 Channels 11-6-9 — If Garrison's Gorillas can be faulted in any production aspect, it certainly isn't lack of action. Even when this cast is standing still their is an element of quiet violence to them. And there's little standing still in this episode built around a top security German prison camp. (C)

8-10 Channels 4-5 — Tuesday Night at the Movies presents "Fun in Acapulco" appropriately titled for Elvis Presley fans but a misnomer for anyone else. He plays a singer who has gone to Mexico after giving up as a trapeze artist, because of a partner's fatal accident. (C)

8:30-9 Channels 11-6-9 — N.Y.P.D. is highlighted by an excellent performance from series star Robert Hooks who is able to build tension calmly without resorting to unnecessary histrionics. The episode, "Finger-man," is built around an informer who has good reason to fear for his life. (C)

Kansas Has Two Reigning Queens
MISSION Kan. (AP) — The state of Kansas has two reigning queens—Miss America and Mrs. America.
The newest one Debra Dene Barnes of Moran Kan. was chosen Miss America Saturday night at the pageant in Atlantic City, N.J.
The other queen is Mrs. John R. Cochran, who won the title of Mrs. America in San Diego in May.
Mrs. Cochran, 34-year-old wife of a Mission attorney, is the mother of two children, a boy 3 and a girl 10.
Mission is a suburb of Kansas City, Mo.

Actress Appears While Car Burns
CHICAGO (AP) — The show went on even though the star's car caught fire.
Actress Ruth Roman leaped from her burning auto Sunday night a few blocks from the Ambassador East Hotel, where she is staying.

Astros Employ 8 Pitchers

Ray Herbel and Briles Continue Winning in New Roles as Starters

BY DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer

Ron Herbel is giving the San Francisco Giants a much-needed helping hand. . . and just about everybody is pitching in for the Houston Astros.

Herbel, recently promoted from the bullpen to help fill the gap left by Juan Marichal's leg injury, scattered eight hits Monday night in hurling the Giants to a 4-0 victory over Los Angeles.

The Astros, meanwhile, tied a National League record by employing eight pitchers on the way to an 11-10 verdict over the Chicago Cubs.

Nelson Briles, like Herbel an ex-relief specialist, rolled to his seventh straight victory as a starter as league-leading St. Louis whipped Philadelphia 5-1 and Cincinnati struck for two ninth-inning runs to nip Pittsburgh 4-3 in other NL action.

Have 9-1 Mark

Herbel's second September victory gave the Giants a 9-1 mark for the month and continued a run of brilliant pitching that began on Aug. 1 — with Marichal shelved by a pulled hamstring muscle in his left leg.

Willie McCovey, who drove in three runs in Herbel's 4-3 victory over Cincinnati nine days ago, delivered two more against the Dodgers with a single and his 25th homer. Willie Mays chipped in with two doubles and a single as the Giants beat Don Drysdale and took a 12-4 bulge in their season set with the Dodgers.

The Astros overcame a 5-2 deficit with a five-run salvo in the sixth inning, but barely survived a ninth-inning rally by the Cubs, who tossed six pitchers into the slugfest.

Pat House, the eighth Houston hurler, got the last out after Dave Giusti, Carroll Sembera, Chris Zachary, Dan Schneider, winner Dave Eilers, Tom Dukes and Larry Sherry had come and gone.

Jim Wynn smacked his 37th homer and drove in three runs for the Astros while Sonny Jackson's two-run single keyed the sixth-inning uprising.

The 14 pitchers used by both clubs equalled the major league mark for a nine-inning game, and the Astros fell one short of the all-time high of nine pitchers put to work by the old St. Louis Browns in a 1949 game against Chicago.

Briles, touched for a run in the second inning, blanked the Phils on five hits the rest of the way to register his 12th victory in 17 decisions.

Singles by Tim McCarver, who had four hits, and Phil Gagliano triggered a three-run burst in the fourth inning that carried the Cardinals another step closer to the NL pennant.

The Reds tailed 3-2 in the ninth when two walks around Deron Johnson's double filled the bases with one out. Maury Wills then booted Don Pavlet-ich's grounder as the tying run scored and Pete Rose won it with a bloop single to right center.

Willie Stargell knocked in all three Pittsburgh runs with a single and homer.

Heavy Winds May Force Delay In Cup Races

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP) — Winds blustering around the fringes of Hurricane Doria threatened to postpone the first race for the America's Cup today.

The Weather Bureau has forecast an only slightly less blustery repeat of the 30-knot northeasterly that kept both the American defender, Intrepid, and the Australian challenger, Dame Pattie, in port Monday.

Intrepid and Dame Pattie have shown themselves somewhat brittle in a stiff breeze, both having been dismasted in high winds during earlier trials over Rhode Island Sound.

Should the overnight prediction of 15-25 knot northeast winds and 6-8 seas be deemed too severe for racing, the committee will put the race off until Wednesday.

There is no time limit in which to run the best-of-7 series for the Cup.

Rams' 'Fearsome Foursome' Even Tougher With Brown

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The ited New Orleans to a net of one Los Angeles Rams' Fearsome yard rushing Foursome is feared by none other than Fears — Tom that is Grier, a 287-pounder, is out of the New Orleans Saints' action. The Rams gave up three draft choices to get 300-pound fearsome, "If that's possible," Roger Brown from the Detroit Lions last week.

Thus, Fears fears the Rams. The other members of the Fearsome Foursome are 6-foot 5 Deacon Jones, 260 pounds, 6-5 tackle Merlin Olsen, 275, and 6-7 Lamar Lundy, 260.

Six weeks ago New Orleans played its very first game against the Rams Los Angeles won 16-7.

An expansion club like New Orleans is usually considered easy pickings — even in exhibition season — for the older teams. But St. Louis, Pittsburgh, San Francisco, Atlanta and the Miami Dolphins of the American Football League found out differently and the Saints wound up with an amazing 5-1 exhibition record.

"We're find out on Sunday," said Fears today.

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

by John Behnke

Young football fans may not know and older fans may have forgotten that in the old days of football, unlike today, the passer on a team was not the quarterback. . . . Before the T formation became popular, the passing was almost always done by a halfback. . . . In fact on many teams, the quarterback never ran or even handled the ball. . . . They were used as blockers. . . . That seems strange today, doesn't it?

Ever wonder which man in history has been able to play the most consecutive games in big league pro football over the years? . . . The record is held by line-man Dick Modzelewski who played in 180 consecutive league games from 1953 through 1966.

Do you know how many times in history have big league baseball teams finished a season in a tie for first place? . . . It's happened 5 times. . . . First time was 1946 when the Cardinals and Dodgers ended the season tied for first. . . . Next time was 1948 (Indians and Red Sox). . . . Then it happened in 1951 (Giants and Dodgers). . . . 1959 (Dodgers and Braves). . . . And, 1962 (Giants and Dodgers).

I bet you didn't know. . . . Underwear doesn't have to be dull. . . . We sell jockey slim guy racer shorts styled for the man who enjoys life. $1.50

Badger Hopes Ride on Pass Receiving Ability, Defense, Says Coatta

BY JERRY LISKA

MADISON (AP) — At the University of Wisconsin, which has sailed some rough football seas in recent seasons, new Coach John Coatta briefed a crew of Big Ten skywriters aboard a lake launch.

During a windy bouncy tour of beautiful Lake Mendota fronting the Wisconsin campus Coatta said it would be he, he and full steam ahead for the Badgers on the comeback trail.

Coatta, star Wisconsin quarterback in the early 1950s, was assigned the Badger helm after Milt Bruhn was torpedoed by three straight losing seasons and booted upstairs into the assistant athletic directorship.

"We'll be an improved football team, adequate on defense and showing our best offensive strength in pass receiving," said the 38-year-old Coatta, former aide to Bruhn after six years as a Florida State assistant.

"I feel we had a good recruiting year and will be on our way back, although it's not an overnight proposition."

13 Regulars Return
Coatta inherited 13 starters from Bruhn's 11th and last Badger club which tied Northwestern for seventh in the Big Ten at 2-4-1 and had an over-all 3-6-1 record.

But three Badger veterans are clustered in a battle for quarterback, the position which must have an effective passer to utilize a batch of good receivers including Tom McCauley at flanker and Bill Fritz, Bill Yanakos and sophomore Mel Reddick at ends.

John Ryan, slowed by early injury, is favored to win out over John Boyajian, leading 1966 Badger passer, who lacks Ryan's skill on the pass-run option in Coatta's opinion.

Still a third seasoned quarterback is Chuck Burt, the nation's 10th best passer in 1965 but whose penchant for tossing interceptions benched him in 1966.

"Both Ryan and Boyajian are excellent leaders," said Coatta.

"Ryan does all things well, but Boyajian falls down a little on the option run. We'll feature the roll-sprint quarterback play, but also can go to the drop-back passing game."

Lack Break-away Threat

"We will have to throw about 40 per cent of the time because we can't overpower anybody yet. What we need is a game-breaking type of runner."

Best running Badger backs include Dick Schumitsch, a two-year performer for two seasons; John Smith, transfer from Eastern Arizona Junior College; Wayne Todd, top 1966 rusher, and sophomores Stuart Voigt and Jim Little.

Wally Schoessow at guard is the only seasoned interior line-man, but the defensive corps is sound, hubbed around 231-pound sophomore Len Fields at middle guard, and fine linebackers in Sam Wheeler, Lynn Buss and Ken Criter.

"We'll be a hustling football team, but I'm realistic enough to know that we're going to suffer setbacks along the way," said Coatta.

Wisconsin's seven-game Big Ten campaign gets off to a rugged start, against defending champion Michigan State away Oct. 7, after two non-conference starts against Washington and Arizona State.

Goose Hunt Permit Deadline Extended For Some State GLs

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Wisconsin GL's who were on duty outside the state during the last half of August may still be able to participate in the goose hunt this fall.

The Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife's regional office said Monday persons in the military service on duty outside Wisconsin during Aug. 15-31 will have until Sept. 30 to apply for a Canada goose hunting permit.

They will be restricted to hunt-Canada geese outside the of Manitowoc, exclaimed "We'll Horicon zone, however."

The regular deadline on applications was Aug. 30.

Jill's patience had worn out and as my buddy, Kurt Trippler of Manitowoc, exclaimed "We'll never get that one," 65 pounds of furry dynamite sent water spraying in all directions.

CHICAGO (AP) — Manager Stanky, "They come here and Eddie Stanky, who has stead-win Friday night. On Saturday fastly held that his Chicago we have them 3-0 going into the White Sox will win the American League pennant, now beat us. Then you can't believe claims they need a winning how weak they looked the next streak if they are to reach their day."

Stanky was referring to the "That makes a winning streak double shutout the Sox dealt the necessary now," said Stanky Tigers Sunday when Joe Horlen after his Sox took a 6-1 shellack- started things off with a no-hitter from the Baltimore Orioles ter.

"Now, you would think the "That puts us two down to way we won those two Sunday, Minnesota in the loss column," we'd be ready to set the world said Stanky. "We can't afford to on fire," continued Stanky. "So stagger anymore."

Stanky marveled at Minnesota's 13-5 comeback victory "What's the answer? I don't over Washington Monday night know. I guess I'm not that after the Senators had scored smart."

German Wirehair Rated Very Versatile

WISCONSIN OUTDOORS

By KURT MUELLER Jr

Sheboygan Press

My watch showed three minutes of shooting left as old Jill struck the scent of another pheasant.

Jill, a German wirehaired pointer and veteran of eight years, worked with caution. Slowly she lifted one foot, placed it gently forward, inching her way toward her quarry. Her eyes intent upon the spot from which the scent was strong, she suddenly went rigid. Her left foreleg hung motionless in mid-air as if touching it to earth would set off some hidden mine.

Beckoning to my hunting partner to move in, I hurried forward from the opposite direction when, with a frightening cackle, a rooster sprung from the alfalfa.

For an instant his scarlet breast shone magnificently in the sun. But he gained altitude and began to soar out over a

Then a volley of blasts from a pair of 12-gauges brought him fluttering down about 40 yards out in swimming water.

Jill's patience had worn out and as my buddy, Kurt Trippler of Manitowoc, exclaimed "We'll never get that one," 65 pounds of furry dynamite sent water spraying in all directions.

East offense was kept simple, but the execution was so good that the Patriots outgained the Ships by better than a 2-to-1 margin.

The FRVC's "big 3" came within four seconds of being totally decimated on the opening weekend. Top-rated Green Bay West beat Sheboygan North with a Jerry Tagge-to-Ron Knause pass on the final play of the game. Oshkosh and Manitowoc, the 2-3 teams in pre-season ratings, didn't fare as well.

In the OHS-Fondy game, the Indians lost at home for the first time in 20 games, and it was the first win for the Cards over Oshkosh since 1959.

Neenah's game with Preble was a preview of its 1968 entrance into the FRVC. The Rockets, who lost heavily from their top-rated 1966 team, will try to accelerate their rebuilding for the defense of their M-E title.

Neenah's loss ended a winning streak at 11 games and an unbeaten streak at 15 straight.

Twins' Reese Hitting .625 In Pinch Role

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ron Reese of the first-place Minnesota Twins is batting a humble .234 these crucial days, or is it a mighty .625?

Well, his season average is the lower figure but what counts now to Twins' Manager Cal Ermer is Reese's more recent performance: five hits in eight pinch-hitting efforts.

"He was the big man, as he has been lately," Ermer said after the Twins knocked off Washington 13-5 Monday night. The victory pulled Minnesota one full game ahead of idle Boston in the American League standings.

Reese, a 25-year-old left-handed swinger, slammed a two-run double in the fourth inning to put the Twins ahead 6-5. The

Honeymoon Appears Over for Gov. Reagan

Philip Battaglia, Executive Secretary
And Trouble Shooter, Leaves His Staff

BY ROWLAND EVANS AND ROBERT NOVAK
SACRAMENTO, Calif. — The date Sept. 5, 1967, may well be recorded as the point when the first stage in Governor Ronald Reagan's administration ended and, perhaps, when his uncanny inside the Reagan camp are known even though the details are not.

He Was to the Left
A moderate ideologically, Battaglia was to the left of every body else in the governor's office. There had been disagreements with ex-newspaperman Lynn Hofziger, the Governor's other top aide and a hard-line conservative. Reagan's powerful financial supporters in Los Angeles had grown disenchanted with Battaglia's "liberalism."

Moreover, Battaglia confided weeks ago that he felt Reagan's office would increasingly emphasize the drive to put Reagan in the White House in 1969 with Noziger the key staffer and de-emphasize Battaglia's speciality of state government.
It is precisely the tensions that forced Battaglia out of Sacramento which make his departure a turning point in the Reagan administration. Although Reagan's own charisma and television mastery are the key ingredients in sustaining his amazing level of popularity among Californians generally, it was Battaglia's virtuoso performance because of pressure from his Reagan in the Sacramento jun-wife and his Los Angeles law firm. The reason why scarcely anybody here—even ardent Reaganites—believes this story is that the broad outlines of tension

Worked Out Problems
At the outset, Battaglia neuganities—believes this story is that the broad outlines of tension

ure by helping negotiate the tact truce under which Reagan agreed not to block the renomi-nation next year of Senator Thomas Kuchel, leader of California's moderate Republicans.
Battaglia later established close relations not only with the moderate Republicans but with Jesse Unruh, powerful Democratic assembly speaker. While Reagan remained distant and aloof to legislative leaders, Battaglia was willing to work out the governor's problems with them over a martini.
What makes the void left by Battaglia especially important is the certainty that Reagan will encounter ever more severe problems as his term continues and cannot duplicate the unqualified political success of 1967.

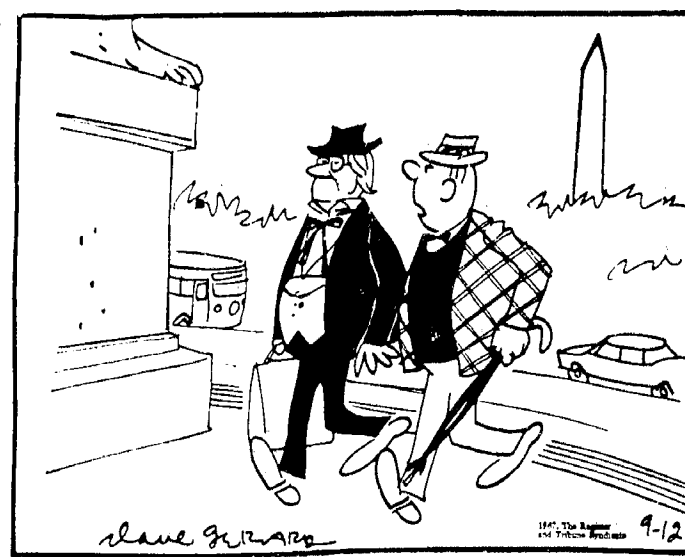

Reagan has enjoyed the best of all worlds. He has passed a record $1 billion tax increase hitting hardest at his upper income supporters but seems to have escaped blame for it. He has curtailed state services while still failing to prevent state spending from rising 13.7 per cent, yet he has not aroused pressure groups to really vigorous protest and still has the confidence of conservatives.

But the time is coming, if not 1968 then 1969, when Reagan must decide either to start a spending program that would alienate hard core conservatives or permanently put a lid on governmental growth that will really rouse pressure groups.

Unruh Changing Tactics
For instance, whatever Reagan does next year about demands of the state college system for new buildings will make enemies. And just to add more trouble, Speaker Unruh, having accomplished little in his passive strategy of letting Reagan make his own mistakes. plans to make himself more difficult for the governor to deal with next year.

The absence of Battaglia, considered by legislators of both parties as the one man in Reagan's office with real interest in state government, makes it likely that Reagan's administration will deal with this crossroads by taking the route of economizing rather than problem-solving—a choice bound to stir turmoil in Sacramento.

With or without Battaglia, however, inevitable pressures of financial aid for four years of college, which includes tuition and educational fees, books, uniforms, and a $50 per month allowance. After completing baccalaureate de-

Thus, his political advisers realize that if Reagan is ever to run for president, it will have to be now—in 1968—or never, but that is another story which deserves full treatment in a future column.

Surgery Only Cure For Cervical Rib

BY JOSEPH MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: I would appreciate an explanation of cervical ribs that cause pain in the shoulder and neck area.
My age is 73 and I have had X-rays. Would you approve an operation, as has been suggested? — Mrs. S. M.

Pains of arm, shoulder or neck can come from varied causes — but whatever is causing pressure on the nerve root can cause pain. Thus the pain (or numb-

Dr. Molner

There are seven cervical vertebrae which, as a group, constitute the neck bones. They have small protusions at the side.

If one of them (usually the seventh or lowest vertebra of the neck) has a protusion which is excessively long, it is called a cervical rib. (The first regular ribs start with the vertebra directly below the seventh.)

A cervical rib can put pressure on certain nerve roots and thus cause pain in the shoulder, neck or arm. In certain positions, it may put pressure on one of the larger arteries in the area.

Why, if this "rib" has been there for a long time, didn't it cause trouble sooner? Because as we grow older we change shape, and the pressure comes at a different point. Or, there are enough arthritic changes in the bones to contribute to the same thing.

Sometimes a cervical rib can be felt by a physician, but the condition is verified by X-ray. Surgery to remove this elongated portion of the bone is the only cure.

This does not mean that a cervical rib is the only cause of similar distress. Arthritic changes alone may be responsible, or some fault in posture, or injury.

ness or tingling) does not by itself indicate the precise cause of the trouble, and does not give the complete diagnosis.
But the correct diagnosis is necessary before you can arrive at the correct treatment.

This brings me to a related point but I will wait until tomorrow to discuss it.

Dear Dr. Molner: Friends insist that an underactive thyroid makes you eat and eat and put on weight. Will it cure itself or must it be treated? — Mrs. T.

That's not exactly what an underactive thyroid does. It slows your metabolism and makes you logy and tired; you are likely to take on weight, not because of excessive eating but because you are not physically active enough to use up your calories.

The condition seldom corrects itself, and certainly not quickly in any event. Have it treated.

The Post-Crescent B 14
Tuesday, September 12, 1967

Dear Dr. Molner: A woman I know has been using birth control pills for three years. She tells me now she has had no periods for ten months but definitely is not pregnant.

Could this be harmful? It seems to me the lining of the uterus should be expelled or nature would not have planned it that way. — Mrs. B. A. D.

Aren't you arguing in two directions at once? By using the pills, you already are changing nature's plans.

True, the pills have varying effects, sometimes preventing or shortening menstrual periods, but no harmful consequences have been noted from this.

After all, nature's purpose in shedding the lining of the uterus (by the menstrual period) is not just to get rid of the lining, but to provide a fresh lining should pregnancy occur in the forthcoming cycle.

Since the pills are being taken to prevent pregnancy, why worry because nature stops preparing for pregnancy?

To learn the major categories of prostate trouble — symptoms; treatment; how to speed recovery — write to Dr. Molner in care of this newspaper for his booklet, "The Pesky Prostate," enclosing 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to cover cost of printing and handling.

Police Stop Whites Trying To Enter Core

Negro Marchers Met by Hecklers In Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Swarms of screaming whites sprayed bottles and rocks at a huddled line of Negro open housing marchers on the virtually all-white South Side Monday night, bringing an abrupt and violent end to Milwaukee's 15th straight night of demonstrations.

"Niggers Niggers! Burn the Niggers!" shouted whites who packed the sidewalks along 16th Street as the demonstrators, led by Negro comedian Dick Gregory and the Rev. James E. Groppi, a white Roman Catholic priest, moved into the neighborhood.

At least two persons were injured, including Sydney Finley, a national officer of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. Police made 13 arrests.

Own Marches

The whites, some of whom had made unsuccessful attempts at marches of their own into the Negro North Side, were waiting for the procession of about 500 Negroes.

Even before the marchers crossed a viaduct into the neighborhood, bottles and firecrackers were tossed at the feet of waiting police.

Police had been forced to use tear gas in a South Side neighborhood Sunday night to scatter white throngs aroused by the largest civil rights demonstration in the city's history. The demonstration had been staged with only minor incidents through another South Side section.

Protesters Chant

"Sock it to me, Black Power, ooh, aah," chanted the demonstrators as they advanced through the hostile waves of cane whites. Some whites held banners that read, "Polish Power" or "White Power." Others held rocks and bottles.

They let them fly in an arc over the head of the riot-equipped police escort accompanying the marchers.

The marchers huddled together in a tight pack. Some held signs calling for open housing as a shield for their face.

Police moved into the white lines, seeking the source of the missiles.

Other police urged the march-

Jamaica Set for Beulah

Mountains Cut Into Hurricane's Muscle

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Dwindling Hurricane Beulah, with the wind knocked out of her by 8,000 foot mountains, moved today toward the tourist resorts of Jamaica leaving 18 dead, thousands homeless and ravaged crops in her wake on islands across the Caribbean.

The U.S. Weather Bureau in Miami said some hurricane force winds were likely over Jamaica late today with the greatest threat to the south coast where tides five feet above normal were forecast.

The once-mighty Beulah was slowed to 75 miles an hour, just one mile an hour above hurricane strength.

May Build

The weather bureau said Beulah may build up its muscle over the Jamaica Channel today and urged Jamaicans to prepare for high winds and heavy rain.

At 6 a.m. the storm was 675 miles south southeast of Miami and was expected to continue moving toward the west at 10 m.p.h. for the next 12 to 24 hours.

Arnold Sugg, a forecaster, said it was too early to predict the effect on the United States. "We have no way of knowing," Sugg said. "It's an impossible question. Beulah is too far away and moving too slowly."

Two Atlantic hurricanes, Doria and Chloe, remained far from land.

Chloe, moving west from far out in the Atlantic, was said to pose no threat to land for the next two days.

Doria, a "minimal hurricane" centered 500 miles east of Norfolk, Va., was moving to the

Miss Resnick was awarded the title Sunday in nearby Lewiston.

China Tells India To Halt 'Invasion'

Navy Pilots Zero in on Key Haiphong Targets

NEW DELHI (AP) — Red China threatened India today with "crushing blows" in the wake of a sharp clash between troops of the two nations on the mountainous border between Tibet and Sikkim.

Intermittent firing continued through the night between Indian and Red Chinese troops on the border, an Indian Defense Ministry spokesman said today.

The spokesman said he was unable to give any reason for the clashes which India claims were provoked by the Chinese.

Recalling the defeat Chinese troops administered to Indian forces in their border war five years ago, a Chinese government note delivered to the Indian Embassy in Peking said: "Do not misjudge the situation and repeat your mistake of 1962."

'Crushing Blows'

"For the defense of the sacred territory of their motherland," the note continued, "the great Chinese people and the Chinese People's Liberation Army will certainly deal crushing blows at any enemy that dares invade us."

India proposed an immediate cease-fire and a meeting of the local military commanders "to reduce the tension and prevent the situation from assuming a very serious aspect."

Each side accused the other of opening fire first on Monday. The clash occurred at Nathu La Pass, a Himalayan ridge about 20 miles from Gangtok, the Sikkimese capital where the former Hope Cooke, an American socialite, reigns with her husband the Maharajah Palden Thondup Namgyal.

Red China said 36 of its frontier guards were killed or wounded in the clash, the second outbreak of fighting at the pass in five days.

Killed in Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army Pfc. Leonard J. Tauschek of Detroit was killed in recent the Vietnam war action, the Defense Department said Monday.

By GEORGE MCARTHUR Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Navy planes hit four targets inside Haiphong Monday in the closest raids ever made to the center of the port city.

The dock facilities were spared, but raiding jets from the carriers Coral Sea and Oriskany hit two of the main bridges in North Vietnam's chief port, the main rail yard and a sprawling warehouse area.

SAMs Explode

Antiaircraft and missile batteries sent against the raiders included two Soviet-built SAM rockets that apparently went out of control and exploded near three ships, including one Polish and one Italian, anchored in the Red River mouth 20 miles from the port. One missile exploded 1,800 feet above the ships and the other exploded in the water about 2,000 yards away.

The raids into the heavily defended heartland of North Vietnam maintained a U.S. policy of putting as much pressure as possible on the Hanoi regime before monsoons curtail air operations against the North in about a month.

The intensified air war was paralleled by heavy ground fighting Monday and today in South Vietnam's northern war zone where U.S. Marines have been fighting off freshly equipped North Vietnamese regulars.

The Marines reported 40 Communist soldiers and 14 Marines killed and 35 Marines wounded in two actions Monday and two shelling attacks today.

Raids on Zone

U.S. B-52 bombers made the raids early today on North Vietnamese positions inside the demilitarized zone from which the Communists send troops south against the Marines and bombarded the Leatherneck outposts just below the zone.

Navy pilots returning from the Haiphong raids reported a hail of SAM missiles and antiaircraft fire, and Hanoi Radio claimed two U.S. jets were shot down.

The U.S. Command reported no losses on the Haiphong strike, but said a B-58 Canberra was shot down Monday north of the demilitarized zone and the two crewmen were missing. It was the 674th U.S. combat plane reported lost in the air war against North Vietnam.

A comprehensive estimate of the damage in Haiphong Monday was unavailable until film from photo planes was developed. However, returning pilots reported heavy damage to the rail yard and warehouse area.

Plant Blast In Alabama Fatal to 4

MUSCLE SHOALS, Ala. (AP) — Four persons were killed and 40 injured in an explosion which shattered a building at the Reynolds Metal Alloys plant here, company officials said.

They said first reports indicated damage might reach $1 million.

The thundering explosion, heard more than 15 miles away, occurred in the plant's cast house No. 10. The blast sent flames shooting more than 200 feet into the air and turned the building into a pile of rubble.

"It looked like it had been bombed," one witness said. Company officials said the dead included Hollis J. Creek, 53, of Florence, Ala., Charles N. Emberg, 50, of Sheffield, Ala., Marvin Bullard, 33, a small tanker of uncle Shoals, Ala., and John B. Daily, Tusculumbia, Ala.

many antiaircraft sites blanketed with smoke and the bombs "on the target" in the two strikes against the bridges.

Spanned Canal

The bridges spanned the big canal that bisects Haiphong and carried the main rail and road traffic for Hanoi to the west. They were located one mile and eight-tenths of a mile from the geographic center of the city, the U.S. Command said.

The warehouse area, containing about 13 buildings which made up about 1 per cent of North Vietnam's entire storage capacity, was located 1.7 miles northwest of the city's center, while the mile-long rail yard was 1.7 miles northwest of the center.

The closest raid previously to the center of Haiphong was an attack last April on a cement plant and power plant 1.1 miles from the center.

A map of Haiphong displayed by the U.S. air briefing officer showed the two bridges within the city limits and the warehouse and rail yards right on the city line. The officer said the map was an old one and he could not say whether the rail yard and warehouses were inside the current city limits. However, they were evidently well inside the populated part of the city.

The spokesman said the three ships narrowly missed by the SAM missiles were evidently waiting to enter the crowded port. He said trucks were on the after deck of the Polish vessel, and the Polish and Italian ships were expected to get under way right after the SAMs exploded. The third ship, a small tanker of unknown nationality, apparently remained at anchor.

Open Housing Put on Agenda For Alliance

Appleton Meeting To Suggest Bills For State Legislature

The Alliance of Cities will be asked to dump the ticklish open housing issue into the lap of the Wisconsin Legislature when representatives of more than 20 cities meet here Sept. 21-22, it was learned today.

Movement for a strong open housing law has resulted in marches, demonstrations and riots in the Milwaukee area in recent weeks.

Wisconsin presently has an open housing law but it does not encompass the area of single family residential housing and has been under heavy criticism from civil rights leaders.

Mayor George Buckley disclosed he received a long distance telephone call from Mayor Otto Festge of Madison this morning, indicating that open housing would be put on the Alliance agenda. Festge is president of the Alliance.

State Basis

Buckley said Festge informed him the Alliance would be asked to adopt recommendations which would call upon the state Legislature to deal with open housing laws on a statewide basis "rather than get piecemeal laws in various cities".

Festge was referring to the situation at Milwaukee where the city administration has advocated an open housing law, provided that many of the suburbs and county board go along with the same type of legislation.

Mayor Henry Maier, Milwaukee, has taken the position if Milwaukee were the only community to adopt a tight open housing ordinance in that metropolitan area, it would result in an exodus of whites to the suburbs.

Maier's chief complaint has been that the central city has had to carry the sociological and economic burden created by the "iron ring," his description for suburbs.

Pre-empted Field

An opinion this morning by the Milwaukee city attorney indicated Milwaukee nor any other city had the power to enact an open housing ordinance because the state has already pre-empted the field.

While civil rights leaders from the Milwaukee area have appeared in the Fox Cities, including controversial Rev. James Groppi, and advocated opening housing — no Fox Valley cities are considering such local ordinance at this time.

The Alliance will be meeting next week at the Conway Motor Hotel.

Hollandtown Area Will be Without Electrical Service

Wisconsin Michigan Power Co. has announced that residents of the Hollandtown area will be temporarily without electricity Wednesday afternoon.

The interruption will allow work crews to restring wire on a line in that area, a company spokesman said.

Service to Hollandtown and the two-mile area surrounding the village will be interrupted from 1 to 3:30 p.m. Wednesday. Service will be restored sooner if possible.

Residents of the area are asked to reset their clocks and other automatic equipment after service is restored.

Youth Gets Jail Term On License Charge

Dean A. Bann, 18, 215 First St., Menasha, was sentenced to two months in the Outagamie County Jail Monday afternoon after he pleaded guilty of driving after his license was revoked.

Appleton police arrested Bann the afternoon of Sept. 8 at Jefferson and Calumet Streets. The Menasha youth appeared in Outagamie County Court Branch 2.

Calumet Historical Society Breaks Ground for Museum

$15,000 Structure on Site Donated by Chilton C of C

CHILTON — Ground-breaking ceremonies were held Monday morning and excavation began Monday afternoon at the Calumet County Historical Society site, 2 miles south of here, just off of State 57.

Watching, as the first shovel of dirt was turned by society president Carl Peik, were officers and directors; Assemblyman Gervase Hephner, D-Chilton; G. J. Hipke, chairman of the county board, and E. J. Sohrweide and C. J. Weber, representing the Chilton Chamber of Commerce.

Plan Schedule

The two-acre site was purchased through the efforts of the chamber under the presidency of Robert Lutz in 1964, and the land was turned over to the society. The chamber, headed by William Hertel, now will help the society solicit funds throughout the county to help pay for the 40 by 100 foot steel structure which will cost approximately $15,000.

Plans are that the building will be put up during the week of Sept. 22, and ready for occupancy by Nov. 1. Ace Building Service, Manitowoc, has the contract for construction.

The museum was started by Dr. Royal Klofanda, who during his visits to various farms as a veterinarian, collected old farm tools, machinery and other museum pieces. He housed the articles in an abandoned chicken hatchery at his home in Chilton and later, as his collection grew, in a large barn, also on his property.

Tornado Rages

In July of this year, a tornado struck the city, destroying the barn and some of the articles.

According to Mrs. E. T. Rathert, secretary, 40 life memberships of $100 each have been received.

Officers of the Society are: Peik, Arthur Kopf, vice president; Denton Aebischer, treasurer; and Mrs. Rathert. Directors are Herman Pagel, Oscar Kossman, Edwin J. Krebsbach, Mrs. Alyce Butler, Dr. Klofanda and George Schaefer.

A route 2, Appleton woman and her three-year-old son escaped injury about 2:45 p.m. Monday when their compact car ran into the side of a freight train locomotive at the railroad crossing on Outagamie County Trunk O a mile west of Mackville.

County police said that Mrs. Evelyn R. Ashman, and her son were eastbound on O and the seven-unit train was southbound. The 1962 model Ashman car was thrown into a ditch, against a crossing marker.

Glen F. Clark, 48, 954 Gary Drive, Neenah, train engineer, said he saw the Ashman car coming and applied his air brakes. The crossing does not have an automatic signal.

Port Zoning To be Aired

County Committee Plans to Discuss Minimum Standards

The Outagamie County Airport committee will meet at 7 p.m. today at the courthouse to discuss minimum zoning standards for airport property.

The meeting will be the first of several on the subject. The committee will attempt to develop minimum standards governing rental of airport property and what types of structures may be built, according to Supv. Stanley Gillespie (Grand Chute), committee secretary.

May Take Year

"It may be a year before we present the standards to the county board for adoption," Gillespie said.

Tonight's meeting will consider what is being done at other airports throughout Wisconsin in setting up minimum zoning standards.

"All other airports have these type of standards," Gillespie said. "The reason for our delay largely due to the 'unexpected growth rate of the airport over the past two years'."

Man Steals Bear

Razzing of Friends 'Barely' an Excuse

"Everyone was kidding me that I couldn't get a bear."

That was the excuse given Outagamie County Judge Gustave J. Keller Monday morning when he asked a 24-year-old Milwaukee man why he stole a 200-pound black bear from a fence, Wis., hunter who had befriended him.

Judge Keller, unimpressed with the reasoning, sent George Beslic, father of two, to jail for 10 days and fined him a total of $145 and costs or an additional 72 days.

Judge Keller displayed anger after Conservation Warden Dale Morey explained in court Monday morning the circumstances leading to Beslic's arrest Sunday evening.

Steals Bear

Morey said that Beslic went to the Appleton Police Department about 6 p.m., inquiring as to where he could register a bear. Morey, knowing that the only open season on bear in Wisconsin at this time is a special gun season in the northern part of the state, got on his two-way radio and inquired of fellow wardens up north.

The reply came back that Warden Robert Smith of Menominee, Wis., was looking for the driver of a white Pontiac who allegedly stole a bear in Florence County the night before.

Morey asked Appleton police to send the "hunter" to his home. The hunter drove up in a white Pontiac, bearing the same license number as had been broadcast by Warden Smith.

Beslic opened his trunk and showed Morey the bear he said he had shot with bow and arrow, and wanted to register it.

Morey took Beslic inside his home, sat him down at the desk and informed him of his constitutional rights. The Milwaukee "hunter" then learned that he wasn't fooling Morey. According to the warden's court testimony this morning, Beslic stopped at a general store in Fence Saturday, inquired of fellow wardens up north.

Ask $2.8 Million for Vocational District

Proposed Budget for VE-12 Calls for 1.1 Mill Rate; Public Hearing Sept. 25

A tentative budget of $2.8 million was approved by the Vocational Technical Education District 12 (VTE-12) board Monday night with more than one-third of the anticipated expenditures earmarked for new developments in the four-county district.

The budget represents a 20 percent increase over the combined expense of operating the Appleton, Brillion, Kaukauna, Kimberly, Neenah, Menasha and Oshkosh vocational schools during the current year.

Anticipated revenues for 1968 have been set at $797,043, made up of state and federal aids, sales, driver education, registrations, tuitions and miscellaneous refunds.

This leaves $1,986,852 to be produced by local taxes. Applied against the district's equalized valuation of $1,859,798,200, the levy would require a 1.1 mill rate or $1.10 per $1,000 of full value. State law provides that a maximum of 2 mills can be levied by vocational districts.

Hearing Set

Affected by the taxes will be 99 cities, towns and villages in the four-county area of Winnebago, Waupaca, Outagamie and Calumet, plus portions of five bordering counties. District 12 is made up of 25 independent school districts.

The budget will be presented at a public hearing 8 p.m. Sept. 25, at the Appleton Vocational Technical and Adult School.

The major added item in the proposed budget is for development of the new VTE-12 district. A sinking fund of $650,000 for land and buildings is included; $260,903 for equipment and furniture; $99,910 for administrative salaries; $39,600 for interest on loans; $50,000 paid out tuition; and $25,000 for refunding fees.

Area director William Sirek summarized the development cost for next year as primarily for the "addition of staff in existing schools, expansion of the programs into other cities and towns within District 12, the anticipated increases in teachers' salaries and additional equipment for programs in Appleton and Oshkosh."

"The big difficulty this next year is that we have so many things coming up as expense items, plus the fact that local school budgets have also moved up the ladder about 20 per cent, principally because of increased enrollments and new staff members," he explained.

Final arrangements are expected to be made this week for location of the new district administrative offices in the Smith Pflueger development at County Trunk U and U.S. 41. A suite containing 2,000 square

Horse Dies When Struck by Truck

One horse was killed and another seriously injured when they were struck by a semi-trailer truck 1 mile west of Dale on U. S. 10 about 2:25 a.m. Sunday.

County police said the truck was driven by Robert R. Stotmeister, 32, Strafford. He told police he was eastbound on 10 and saw three horses coming at him when he reached the crest of a hill. He struck two of the horses, owned by Tom McHugh of Appleton and Ed Hertzfeldt of route 1, Fremont.

Police said there was about $200 damage to the truck.

Renne ditched in the Pacific Ocean before swimming to safety. The jumper says there's a reward for the $100 chute.

New London Seeks Study of Central School Complex

Board Members Favor Using Land in City for Expansion

NEW LONDON — Only one building program may be necessary to alleviate crowded conditions on the elementary school level in the New London district, the McKinley and Dale problems but before deciding, Monday night, the school board asked Supt. H. James Ramsdell for more information.

The district owns two seven-acre parcels in the city near the senior high school and could possibly use one for a large elementary school and avoid projects expanding the Readfield School.

Board member Eugene Fuhrman said a suitable location was the prime concern facing the board in relation to a new elementary school to replace the McKinley School.

"We have two pieces of land available," Fuhrman said. "It is to transport parochial students to private schools located within 5 miles of the district."

Centralized System

Fuhrman and several other members favored a more centralized system located in the city.

Supt. H. James Ramsdell said the district would have about $170,000 in a special construction fund at the end of the school year.

He said that the fund would almost be enough to construct an addition to the Readfield School, but would leave the problem of replacing the McKinley School about 3 1/2 p.m. Sunday when the district this would police down on the extension of Maes grams in a short period of time, Avenue. They stopped to question him and four other teenagers.

It would be more economically feasible to think of only one building program, Ramsdell said. He said the board should consider operating a kindergarten through fourth grades (K-4) school at Readfield and constructing an elementary school in the city.

Dale School

Readfield presently has K-6 grades, with grades five and six occupying four rooms. The Dale School, which has three rooms, could be closed and the children attending classes there bused to

Village Police Hold Youth on Hub Cap Thefts

KIMBERLY — A 17-year-old rural Kaukauna youth is being held by Outagamie County juvenile authorities after being apprehended by Kimberly police on charges of theft and driving after his driver's license was suspended.

The youth was apprehended about 3 1/2 p.m. Sunday when police noticed his car broken down on the extension of Maes grams in a short period of time, Avenue. They stopped to question him and four other teenagers.

Investigating police found 14 hub caps in the field. The youth admitted taking them on two occasions from cars in Calumet County. Upon questioning by Calumet County officers four youths were released to parents as they were not implicated in the thefts and the fifth was held for further investigation.

Waupaca Youth, 18, Denies Gasoline Theft

WAUPACA — Franklin E. Nelson, 18, route 4, Waupaca, pleaded innocent of petty theft, when he was arraigned Monday in Municipal Justice Court.

Nelson, who was arrested Saturday by a Waupaca County traffic patrolman, is charged with theft of gasoline.

Justice George Whalen set a trial for 9:30 a.m. Sept. 20, and Nelson was returned to the county jail when he was unable to furnish a $100 bond.

State Says Chlorinate or Close

Waupaca Well Woes Mount

WAUPACA — The city's water woes increased Friday when the State Department of Resource Development (DRD) recommended that the city either discontinue the use of well No. 1 or install chlorination equipment.

The DRD based its recommendation on water samples taken from the well in June which showed the water to be unsafe for consumption. However, during the time water from the well was unsafe it was not being pumped into water mains, Iyer Oeter, city engineer said. The well was shut down for nearly a month during which time water was pumped into nearby Mirror

Lake and samples taken. When satisfactory results from water samples were received from the State Laboratory of Hygiene, Madison, the well was placed back in regular operation, Oeter said.

Rainy Problems

Problems with the well occurred during the June rainy period, and the well was not being used to supply the city with water until late July, Oeter said.

The city had planned to install chlorination equipment at the well but any further progress on the venture has been delayed by the Public Service Commission (PSC).

A six-part program to upgrade and improve the city water system, including the drilling of a fourth well, has been planned but the entire program was halted recently when Ald. Edsel Huntton (1st) requested that the PSC hold a public hearing because of specifications for the well, Oeter said.

The PSC had planned to act on an application from the city in July without a hearing but one was held after Huntton made his request. The hearing was held Aug. 14 and after more than three hours of testimony the commission examiner said a ruling would not be made for 60 to 90 days.

'Stopped Construction'

Oeter said, "We can't do anything now until the PSC makes that ruling, not even improve the wells now being used."

The application submitted to the PSC by the city included the request for a fourth well along with a new building and equipment for well No. 2, an addition to the building at well No. 1 along with the installation of chlorination equipment; overhauling well No. 1; cleaning and repairing the city water storage tank and replacing or repairing motors on the wells.

"The entire project including construction of the fourth well carries an estimated cost of $90,000 and PSC approval is needed for a project of this size."

Oeter said, "We can't do anything now until the PSC makes

2 Hurt in Crash at New London

City Police Also Called to 2 Other Minor Accidents

NEW LONDON — Two New London residents received bruises in a two-car collision at 9 p.m. Saturday on U. S. 45 about 500 feet north of State 54.

Injured were Kathleen Brush, 400 E. Quincy St., and Charles Clary, 320 E. Quincy St. Neither injury required treatment.

City police said the injured were passengers in a car driven by Paul L. Brush, 23, 1312 Rahr Ave., Oshkosh, which attempted to pass a car driven by Dan J. Sebben, 57, Gary, Ind. The Brush car pulled into the left lane of traffic and began to pass the Sebben vehicle when Brush noticed an oncoming car.

As Brush attempted to return to the right lane he struck the right rear of the Sebben auto, police said.

Damage to the two vehicles exceeded $100.

2 Other Accidents

Two other minor accidents were investigated during the weekend. Neither resulted in injury.

At 2 p.m. Saturday a car driven by Mrs. Fred Beyers, 65, 913 Waupaca St., ran into a parked car owned by Peter A. Kielbasa, 309 Waupaca St., which was parked in front of Kielbasa's home.

Mrs. Beyers told police that she had pulled behind Kielbasa's car to park and then pulled away from the curb to park in front of the auto. The Kielbasa car was struck in the left rear corner.

Damage exceeded $100 in a two-car collision at 11:50 a.m. Sunday at Wolf River Avenue and Shawano Street. City police said a car driven by Mrs. Lester Anderson, 60, route 1, Weyauwega, was headed north on Shawano Street when it was struck by a car driven by Mason J. Krake, 54, route 2, which pulled out from a service station driveway.

Growth of Business May Prompt Change From Part-Time Manager

Naming a full-time director for the Outagamie County Airport was proposed at Monday's meeting of the county airport committee.

The subject was introduced by Supv Robert Weyenberg, (Kimberly), during discussion on a new contract for the present airport manager, Max Sagunsky. The present one expires Jan 1.

"We're going to need an airport director," Weyenberg said. "We can't keep running the airport like we have in the past with only a part-time airport manager."

Sagunsky noted that the airport is growing and may need a full-time director in the future but that the operation has not yet gotten out of hand.

Committee Chairman Supv Paul Kostka (Little Chute) felt a change at this time was unnecessary and added that he felt Sagunsky should be given a raise.

More Discussion

We aren't getting $5,700 worth of work out of the airport manager now, Weyenberg reported.

Discussion on the $5,700 contract was tabled for future consideration.

There will be lots more discussion on this subject, noted Supv Gillespie (Grand Chute) secretary of the committee.

Gillespie said the increased traffic being handled by the airport and the almost certain chance for further increase has made the airport manager's system less adequate than before.

With the way the area and the airport are developing the duties for an airport manager are constantly increasing," Gillespie said.

Free Committee

He noted that a full-time director would free the airport committee from the many details of the airport's operation it must consider each month. He also said it would allow for more efforts in uniform airport development.

In other business Monday, the airport committee — Continued withholding $6,000 in construction fees from Theodore Utschig and Son Inc., pending further discussion of delays in finishing the Air Wisconsin hanger at the airport.

— Sent a letter to the Wisconsin State Aeronautics Commission requesting approval of a proposed 500-foot runway extension on the 6,500 foot northwest-southeast runway now under construction. The committee will introduce a resolution at the Sept. 20 meeting of the county board asking for $265,330 in county funds for the extension.

The Opening of School at Fox Valley Lutheran High School was marked with a special religious service at 2 p.m. Sunday at the school gymnasium. The largest student body in the school's 15-year history and parents of the students attended the service. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Resolution to be Submitted

County Board Will be Asked for $265,000 to Add to New Runway

A resolution will be introduced this afternoon at a resolution asking at the Sept. 20 meeting of the for $265,000 in county funds to Outagamie County Board to add a 500 foot extension onto the approved second big cost item north east southwest runway now for the county airport within the under construction.

The board's airport committee approved the new runway will be 5,200 feet long and 150 feet wide.

After the county was notified by the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) has awarded a $143,000 grant to help pay for extending the new runway to 6,500 feet.

The new request would be for man is still in Appleton Metro Hospital unable to walk as a result of serious burns suffered when a can of paint exploded in the morning of Aug. 23.

Lawrence E. Turkow, 29, of Meade St., suffered second and third degree burns on his legs and hands in the accident at Appleton Neon Sign Co., 1915 F. Northland Ave., where he has worked for several years.

A company spokesman said that an acetylene torch being used near several cans of paint touched off the fire and explosion. Turkow was taken by private car to the hospital and the fire was extinguished by other employees of the firm.

Turkow, father of four, is undergoing hydrotherapy at the hospital. His wife said it is not known how long he will be hospitalized.

Appleton Man Is In Hospital After Paint Explosion

The added county appropriation would conform with the $14,800 already approved by the FAA and $30,000 in anticipated state aid for the extension.

The county board last month approved a $75,000 appropriation to increase the new runway's thickness by one and two inches in various stress points.

Along with the extension of the new runway, the apron area is being enlarged and a parallel taxiway is being constructed.

Alcoholism Cost $3.3 Million in '66

BY FERN SMITH
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Based on a 3-year study, cost of alcoholism in Outagamie, Winnebago and Waupaca counties during 1966 can be figured to total some $3.3 million.

This amount includes expenses for treatment, loss of wages to alcoholics, relief payments and jail costs.

It does not include the non-dollar costs in human degradation, loss of productivity to industry or the impact on state and local tax rolls.

During the past three years 35 men were treated from Outagamie County for alcoholism for varying lengths of time in mental hospitals. The average cost per day is $23, which meant a total cost to the county, city or private agency of $26,150.

Studies show this represents 10 per cent of the total number of alcoholics in Outagamie County, and this means there are 350 today going without any kind of care.

Figure Cost

According to the American Journal of Public Health, the average cost for an untreated alcoholic is an annual loss of wage of $2,500, relief payments average $600 for his dependents and fines for drunk and disorderly plus food in jail are $300.

At this $3,400 estimated loss per person, Outagamie County's cost last year was $1,190,000.

Ten of Waupaca County's 100 were treated at a cost of $6,900.

They cost the economy $340,000 annually.

Winnebago County spent $2 to treatment at the cost of $42,780 but the cost of the lost earnings of 620 alcoholics was estimated at $2,108,000 last year.

In comparison, the price tag to the taxpayer for two pending bills to deal with alcoholism is $1.4 million.

Bill 664-A, which is to be heard before the Assembly's Public Welfare Committee at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday and Bill 359-S, to be heard at 1 p.m. Sept. 21 before the Senate's Public Welfare Committee, are companion bills.

The first provides 60 to 80 per cent funding for development of a comprehensive range of services by a county or multi-purpose group.

Bill 359-S is geared to help local counties, cities, towns and villages or non-profit organizations and can mean immediate action. It contains a 40 per cent cost sharing plan.

Prevention, early referral, information, trained staff, treatment, rehabilitation, counseling services and inpatient and outpatient care are provided in the two bills.

The alcoholic presents a vastly different set of problems to the medical profession and requires a highly specialized kind of treatment by all professionals, James Ray, director of the Milwaukee Council on Alcoholism, explained to a multiple county group of agency workers studying the problem.

Dr. Lysloff said our communication between all consolidate what we now have as the board of the Department and private who are involved medical, legal, social and health agencies and individuals public by involving each discipline — he said agencies to combat this baffling recommending we will improve. Also we will be able to illness, he concluded.

Man Learns How Not to Hunt Bears

quitting as to where he might get a bear. He was told that a successful hunter down the road might give him some information as to good hunting grounds.

Turned on Friend

Beslic went to the home and during the course of bear-hunting talk was invited to have two cups of coffee. The family then went into the house for supper. Beslic left the house and went to the adjoining garage where he cut down the hanging dressed-out bear and loaded it into his trunk — while the owner ate his supper.

Beslic slept in an abandoned home in the Fence area Saturday night and was on his way back to Milwaukee Sunday when he stopped in Appleton.

Beslic pleaded guilty of possessing an unregistered bear outside the proper registration area 24 hours after it was killed and carrying a loaded firearm in a vehicle. Morcy said that he found a loaded 22 caliber revolver in a duffel bag behind the front seat of Beslic's auto after the Milwaukee man had given the warden consent to search.

Gun Loaded

Asked why he was carrying the loaded gun, Beslic told Judge Keller, "I thought it was unloaded. To which an already much angered Keller replied, 'People get shot with unloaded guns.'"

Judge Keller called Beslic's actions "Just about the lowest stunt I can imagine."

"I'm surprised you didn't go back into the house and ask for supper too," he told Beslic.

Judge Keller ordered the man's pistol confiscated. Beslic also faces charges in Florence County for taking the bear, Morcy said.

The bear? It was returned to Warden Smith at Menominee for evidence.

Hospital Staff Helped To Trace Disease of Two Neenah Children

NEENAH — Laboratory technicians at Theda Clark Hospital took part in helping detect a highly infectious disease that a turtle transmitted to two children of a Neenah family, The Post-Crescent was informed today.

The information was made known following a story in Sunday's paper concerning children of the Robert E. Frank family, 991 Main St., who were found to have Salmonella.

As the story stated, laboratory tests were done by the State Health Department in Madison but testing also was done at Theda Clark Hospital where the Franks' five-year-old son was confined for 13 days while being treated for the disease.

Miss Mary Ann Warner, Neenah public health supervisor, was credited with playing a major part in helping trace the cause of the disease to the Frank boy's pet turtle.

The one thing no other life insurance company can offer your family...

People, it is sometimes said, are much alike. We can't agree when it comes to life insurance agents. Ours are very different. Mass Mutual agents are an elite corps of skilled professionals who are, we believe, the finest in the industry.

Consider, for example, these three standards in comparison with industry averages: three times as many Mass Mutual agents have earned the Chatterbox Life Underwriter designation, four times as many have won the National Quality Award, six times as many are members of the Million Dollar Round Table.

Mass Mutual provides its agents with the very best in policies, training and services—in return we ask a lot of our agents. We ask for more work, more study, more dedication than most people could believe possible.

The result is life insurance that's tailor made for your family, insurance of the sort an agent would write if he were doing it for himself. When an agent from Mass Mutual calls on you, you know you're at your command the very best the life insurance industry can offer.

After all, isn't that what your family deserves?
